New Army Plan Assigns Guards War Missions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army staff is studying a plan that would tie some 650,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists more closely to emergency war plans.

This is the fourth effort since 1962 to improve the readiness of guard-reserve backup forces. Planners are shooting for deployment of some units overseas four weeks after they are mobilized.

The new proposal would probably mean the end of former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's "Selected Reserve Force"—137,000 men in units in theory prepared to deploy eight weeks after callup.

However, in the limited guard-reserve mobilization last year, the first of 43 units activated did not reach Vietnam until 15 weeks after callup. That unit was a dental detachment.

The new proposal takes on added importance because the Nixon administration is looking ahead to a possible million-man reduction in regular forces over a three-year period after Vietnam.

Unlike past moves, the new proposal does not involve eliminating any more guard or reserve units. About 3,500 surplus or obsolete outfits were culled out of the guard-reserve structure in a series of reorganizations.

Details are secret, but Pentagon sources said the new plan specifies Guard and Reserve units to specific war plans, and changes the composition of the backup forces as national contingency plans change.

All guard and reserve units would be assigned missions which would involve their possible deployment with four, eight, 12, 16, or more weeks post-mobilization active duty training.

Mackle Kidnap Trial Begins

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — Bury, bearded Gary Steven Krist goes on trial today on a charge of kidnaping Florida heiress Barbara Jane Mackle.

Krist, 24, a convicted car thief who escaped a California prison, is charged with Ruth Eisemann-Schier, 26, Honduras-born biologist, in the Dec. 17 abduction of the Emory University coed. Miss Schier is to go on trial June 16.

The courthouse is not far from the motel where the 20-year-old student was taken from a sickbed, then buried alive in a plywood crypt under 18 inches of clay while a $500,000 ransom was negotiated with her father.

Krist has spent the last three weeks in a hospital undergoing psychiatric examination. He was removed from the DeKalb County jail April 22 after collapsing from a 27-day hunger strike.

Krist was captured on alligator-infested Hog Island on Florida's Gulf coast soon after the ransom payoff, and $497,700 of the money was with him, the FBI said.

Miss Eisemann-Schier, first woman ever put on the FBI's 10 most-wanted list, was arrested more than two months after the kidnaping in Norman, Okla., where she was working as a carhop at a drive-in.

Mountain Defies U.S. Paratroopers

DONG AP BIA, Vietnam (AP) — The paratroopers came down from the mountain, their shirts dark green with sweat, their weapons gone, their bandages stained brown and red. With mud and blood.

Many cursed Lt. Col. Weldon Honeycutt, the hard-nosed battalion commander who sent three companies Sunday to take this 3,000-foot mountain just over a mile east of Laos and overlooking the shell-pocked A Shau Valley.

They failed and they suffered. At least 10 died on the hill.

Honeycutt, 38, of Columbus, Ga., had been given an order: Take the mountain. It had been steadily pounded since May 10 by artillery, riot gas and more than 70 air strikes. It is believed to contain a North Vietnamese regimental headquarters and a supply cache.

Almost Bare
By Sunday, the mountaintop was almost bare, its heavy jungle cover blasted apart by artillery, rockets, bombs and napalm. But still visible were the bunkers. They looked like evenly-spaced shell depressions.

U.S. intelligence said Sunday morning the mountain was held by "two companies, plus." In the afternoon, Honeycutt revised it upwards to two battalions that had infiltrated and reinforced the mountain stronghold last Saturday night.

Since May 13 his battalion had suffered heavy casualties assaulting Dong AP Bia—about 35 killed and some 180 wounded seriously enough to be evacuated.

As of Sunday, the mountain had been ground-assaulted 10 times by the 3rd Battalion, 187th Infantry.

The paratroopers had made it

Bear Visits City

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A black bear was shot to death in Cheboygan Saturday after efforts to calm it with tranquilizers failed. The bear wandered into town and crawled up a tree.

When police attempts to calm the bear with tranquilizer darts failed, a State Police trooper killed it.

Drop Deferments, Yet Fewer College Grads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of college graduate students being drafted this year is running far below estimates, even though deferments for diploma holders were abolished more than a year ago.

At the same time, graduate schools report a big slow-down in enrollment. Nobody knows whether the missing students were drafted, went to industry for occupational deferments, or stayed home to wait for "Greetings."

The National Security Council recommended lifting deferments in February 1968 for all graduate study except medicine and the ministry.

Critics of the move predicted a draft of 276,000 college graduates including 175,000 grad students. The more conservative Pentagon estimates were for a draft of 100,000 college graduates, including 58,000 would-be grad students in fiscal 1969.

When the fiscal year ends in June the total will probably reach no more than 35,000.

How many of these soldier-scholars were or would have been in graduate school is unknown. Asked the number of draftees with graduate credits a Pentagon spokesman replied "That would be a major research project. We just can't do it."

The elimination of graduate deferments was meant to stop to the top three times, and three times intense enemy fire drove them back.

Lost Buddies
Spec. 4 Anthony Toll, 20, of Nashville, Ind., had made nine of those assaults against Dong AP Bia, and the dark-haired, slender veteran of eight months in Vietnam was bitter.

"After all these air and artillery strikes, those gooks are still in there fighting. All of us are wondering why they just can't pull back and B52 that hill," he said.

"I've lost a lot of buddies up there. Not many guys can take it much longer."

Why take the hill?

"Well, for one thing, it overlooks a good deal of the A Shau Valley," said Honeycutt. "For another, you pull back and Charlie sure as hell will follow you right down and hit you."

Why do the North Vietnamese defend it so strongly?

"I can't say for sure. I wish I could," said the division commander, Maj. Gen. Melvin Zais.

He said one option open to him was to back off and "bring in more firepower."

Not Stupid
"But you hate to give up the ground you've gained," he added. "You'll have to fight just as hard to retake it. Backing off is one thing that commanders hate to do."

What about a massive B52 strike on Dong AP Bia?

"Look, those gooks aren't stupid," said one intelligence officer. "They know exactly how much damage an arc light (B52 raid) does, how deep the bombs blow."

"They build their bunkers to withstand that. That's what they've done out there."

And possibly for that reason—to root out the enemy—the men of Honeycutt's battalion were sent up Sunday for their 10th assault against enemy bunkers, claymore mines, rocket-propelled grenades and a hail of bullets.

our relationships with Europe or Asia," he said.

He apparently intended this to reassure the Asian allies that in seeking peace in Vietnam, the United States does not intend to turn its back on Asia.

During his four-day visit to Vietnam, Rogers sought to assure the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu that the Nixon administration does not plan to abandon the war or bargain away South Vietnam's right of self determination.

But after a five-hour meeting with Rogers, Thieu said the next day that he wanted to meet with President Nixon because he felt much more coordination was needed between his government and the United States.

Rogers is here to attend a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) Tuesday and Wednesday.

He was met by Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman and was given the traditional garland of sweet smelling jasmine flowers as a sign of welcome.

Rogers told Thanat that the United States is a member of both the Atlantic and Pacific communities.

Apollo Relays Perfect TV Pictures To Earth

Crew Promises More Shots Of Outer Space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—The blue and white disc bobbed in the black vastness of space as an astronaut focused the camera. A zoom lens pulled the image close, then pushed it away.

It was man's first live, full color television view of home as seen from outer space.

The three Apollo 10 astronauts surged nearer the moon with another color television broadcast on schedule for 4:04 p.m. EDT.

Space Center spokesmen said either the earth or moon might be televised and that more than one broadcast was possible.

Apollo 10 Commander Thomas P. Stafford had said before Sunday's liftoff that he and fellow astronauts John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan would telecast from space whenever time allowed.

The spacemen beamed back three shows for a total of 72 minutes air time Sunday, including two unscheduled "specials" of earth.

They caught commercial TV off guard on the second bonus broadcast and appeared only on closed-circuit television at Mission Control. It included a close-up view of the spaceship interior—so close that viewers could count the stars and stripes on the tiny American flag stitched to Young's sleeve.

The view from space was, as astronaut Cernan put it, "unbelievable."

Then came the great show, man's first live, color view of his home planet from a spaceship speeding through space at 20,000 m.p.h.

"You know, you blink your eyes and look out there, and you know it's three dimensional, but it's just sitting out there in the middle of nowhere. It's unbelievable," Cernan reported.

High On Brownies

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Friendly street people gave them some brownies, four giggling National Guardsmen said as they reported to Herrick Memorial Hospital. Hospital officials examined them and speculated that the brownies had contained marijuana. The intoxicated Guardsmen were released after treatment Sunday, and they went back to their mission of controlling disorders near the University of California campus.

"Even if approved in the Senate it would, of course, still be subject to House approval," Schweigert said. "I haven't personally made any tallies, but I think it would be quite close."

"It may not even happen (this session), but I suppose that sooner or later the Senate is going to have to vote on it in some form," Schweigert said. "I'm staying kind of loose on it. I want to see it in its final form to see if we can finance it and whether it would be legal within the confines of our Constitution."

Action in the Senate was to resume at 2 p.m. today, six hours before the House was scheduled to get back to work.

The House voted 65-30 on Friday in favor of the school aid appropriation. Fifteen members did not vote.

The Senate can either approve or reject the House money proposals.

Flat Rock Couple Die In Home Fire

Fire in a home at Flat Rock early Sunday killed a husband and wife and orphaned their three children.

Dead are Raymond Therrian, 41, and his wife, Marie, 37, whose bodies were found in the ruins of their one and one-half story dwelling after flames destroyed the house and nearby garage.

Orphaned by the fire are Christine, 18, Katherine 17, and Rodney, 14 years old.

They are staying with their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Therrian, who live at Flat Rock within a short distance of the tragic fire scene.

Mass Of Flames
Escanaba firemen were summoned at 3:05 a.m. Sunday. The call was delayed because phone service in the area was out of order.

Firemen found the house and garage in a mass of flames, said Fire Chief Palmer Derouin. Unaware there were bodies in the blackened ruins, firemen returned to Escanaba at 4:55 a.m.

The frame and concrete block dwelling and garage were totally destroyed.

At 5:30 a.m. Ernest Beauchamp, a neighbor, discovered one of the bodies, burned beyond recognition, in the basement in front of the furnace. He summoned authorities.

Request Autopsy
Trooper Lee Huitunen of the State Police, Gladstone, found the second body about 6:30 a.m., in what had been a laundry and storage room at the rear of the house. The bodies were removed to the Alto Funeral Home in Escanaba.

The cause of the fire has not been determined as yet. From all present indications, it is assumed the fire was accidental.

The state fire marshal's office at Marquette was notified and Detective Sergeant Freeman of the State Police is investigating, and an autopsy is being requested as a formality of the inquiry.

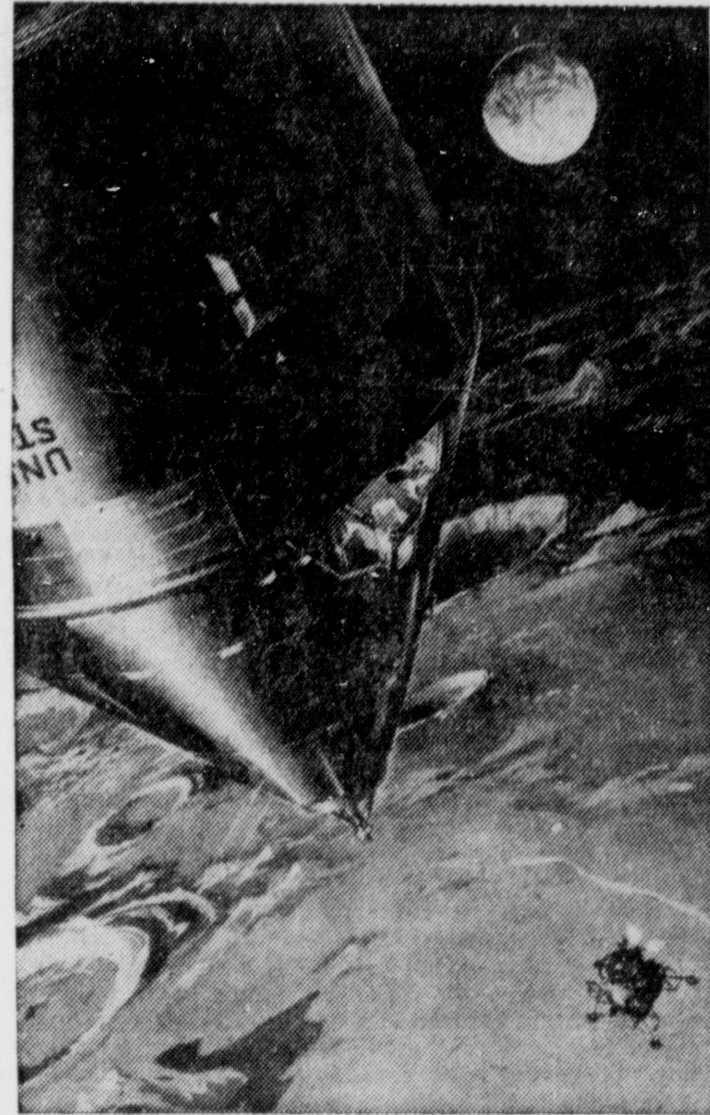

Fire Chief Derouin said the location of the bodies in the ruins would indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Therrian were unable to escape by the front door. They attempted to flee to the rear entrance and were overcome before they could get out.

Stayed With Friends
The body found in the debris near the furnace toward the rear of the house may have fallen there with the collapse of the floor.

The Therrian children spent Saturday night at the home of the Eldren Spriks at Rapid River. The families are friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Spriks and Mr. and Mrs. Therrian last saw each other about 1 a.m., when they parted and the Therrians returned to their home. Mr. Therrian, a welder at Harnischfeger, was to work a Sunday shift, said Spriks.

The Spriks were notified of

Parochial Backers Pin Hopes On Senate

LANSING (AP) — Backers of parochial aid in Michigan are pinning their hopes today on the Senate which reviews the school aid bill passed in the House last week minus an aid to nonpublic schools amendment.

While eliminating the token $100,000 amendment for parochial aid, the House added $4.1 million on the earlier Senate package. The school aid bill returned to the Senate with an $849.5 million price tag. That was $4.9 million more than recommended by Gov. William G. Milliken in his budget.

"This (parochial) could be brought before the Senate, if anyone really wants it considered," Senate President Thomas Schweigert said over the weekend. The Republican from Petoskey said the measure could be tacked onto one of the House amendments.

"Even if approved in the Senate it would, of course, still be subject to House approval," Schweigert said. "I haven't personally made any tallies, but I think it would be quite close."

"It may not even happen (this session), but I suppose that sooner or later the Senate is going to have to vote on it in some form," Schweigert said. "I'm staying kind of loose on it. I want to see it in its final form to see if we can finance it and whether it would be legal within the confines of our Constitution."

The controllers told the astronauts to "open the potable tank inlet and take a bag and draw off a bag full of water—get rid of the chlorine concentration."

"We have your horoscopes for you," said capsule communicator Bruce McCandless. Then he and fellow astronaut Charles Duke began reading them.

"Tom, you have to concentrate mainly on finishing things that are already started," Duke told Stafford, a Virgo, "line up your plans; take inventory. The pace of the day should be moderate."

Cernan, a Pisces, was told to "make sure your home and workplace are free of hazards. Give thought to your driving and work habits. Do something nice for somebody you care about."

And for Young, a Libra, the message was "Take advantage of a relatively slow day to get a better perspective on your job. Look around, ask some questions and think about the answers from various angles."

Smooth Mission

Sunday's launch was accomplished with a precision and nonchalance unimagined when America first ventured into space eight years ago.

The spacecraft's television cameras took earthlings along as sightseers as they moved smoothly on their pathfinding mission for the landing of the first humans on the moon, scheduled for July.

It went like the script said: the launch of the Saturn 5 rocket, the insertion in orbit, the separation of spacecraft from booster rocket, the spacecraft's somersault—then its return to the booster to pluck out the lunar lander.

Like Replay
A ground controller said it was like a taped replay of earth-bound practice sessions.

"That's all it is, babe," said Cernan.

Until Wednesday, when Apollo 10 neared the moon after hurtling 251,307 miles, its crew has relatively little to do.

The experiments that made this flight look easy were perfected step-by-step, mission-by-mission in America's 19 space trips beginning with Alan B.

Thuds, Chlorine In Water Bother Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 10 moved flawlessly toward its moon destination today with only two minor complaints from the crew—dull thuds that interrupted their night's sleep and water chlorine that burned their mouths.

Despite the interruptions caused by periodic bursts from their small rockets the astronauts reported "We had a real great night's sleep."

About two hours after they began their sleep cycle, following Sunday's precise and hitches launching, the astronauts complained mildly about the noise made by the rockets that slowly rotate the spacecraft. They worried about fuel consumption.

But on awakening after about 10 hours Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford reported "All three of us feel great."

Navy Cmdr. Eugene Cernan said the thruster noise sounded "just like a minor pulse, just vibration."

Complain Of Water

Stafford and Cernan were awake a half hour ahead of schedule, but Navy Cmdr. John A. Young slept out the distance.

The astronauts began their day by giving a global weather report from their vantage point 107,000 miles above the earth.

They complained about the chlorine in their water supply and Stafford said: "The water is absolutely horrible. I got a horrible slug of chlorine. My mouth is still burning. John did too. I just want to put that on the record."

Before they retired, the Apollo 10 crew argued mildly with the ground about the necessity for rechlorinating the supply, but lost the argument. Ground controllers, after studying the problem, admitted today they had given the astronauts the wrong procedure for the rechlorination and that apparently a large concentration of the purifier had collected in the bottom of the tank.

Horoscopes
The controllers told the astro-

nauts to "open the potable tank inlet and take a bag and draw off a bag full of water—get rid of the chlorine concentration."

"We have your horoscopes for you," said capsule communicator Bruce McCandless. Then he and fellow astronaut Charles Duke began reading them.

Joint Exercise Is 'Successful'

The Civil Defense-Civil Air Patrol joint Civil Defense exercise at the Escanaba Municipal Airport Saturday and Sunday was very successful, reported Mason E. Johnson, county Civil Defense director.

Verner Neumann of Escanaba, county Civil Defense radiological defense officer, conducted a class to the Civil Air Patrol Cadets for Radiological monitoring and also set up for the two-day exercise an area for decontamination of personnel and aircraft.

One of the highlights of the exercise was the arrival of H. George Nelson, member of the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

Arriving at the Airport with the escort of the Escanaba City Police, he immediately was rushed aboard an aircraft and flew throughout Delta County on a simulated damage assessment to roads, bridges and industries following a nuclear attack. "This was the purpose of the joint Civil Defense and Civil Air Patrol assignments," Johnson said. "Civil Air Patrol is always ready and able to assist local governments in time of a nuclear or natural disaster."

Johnson said a similar exercise should be planned for the winter months.

Daydreams, Memories Make World Liveable

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What an awful world today would be if we had to live in it always.

Fortunately, we don't. For the human mind isn't built to spend much time in the actual present—in the reality of now.

It has two escape hatches, daydreams and memories. Our daydreams are sugared hopes for a happier tomorrow, our memories are bittersweet monuments of what has happened to us in the past. And we need both daydreams and memories to keep from becoming prisoners of today's hard hours.

Your own gallery of memories is pretty crowded if you can look back and remember when: Life was so innocent that if a stranger smiled and spoke to you, you didn't immediately wonder what he was trying to get from you.

Garden Necessity

It was hard to drive your car 10 miles in any direction from any town on a rainy day without running the risk of sinking up to hubcaps in mud.

Having a backyard vegetable garden wasn't a hobby in a large family—it was a practical necessity.

The only times of the year most people stayed up until midnight was on New Year's Eve and when someone was ill.

Folks grumbled that the high cost of living was getting out of hand when the classiest restaurant in town added a hatchback girl to its staff and you had to leave her a dime tip.

Mother explained when she sent you to the bakery to buy day-old bread that it was not only cheaper but it had a firmer crust that was healthier for your gums.

More men chewed tobacco than girls chewed gum. A doctor didn't necessarily need a good bedside manner when he made a house call, but it was expected that he'd pause long enough for a friendly cup of coffee in the kitchen on the way back out to his waiting horse and buggy.

Nickel Cigar

The chief sources of air pollution in America were visitors who insisted on lighting up nickel cigars in the parlor.

A farmer's chief recreation on Saturdays consisted of driving to the county courthouse and seeing who was being tried for stealing what.

Conscientious mothers always tore out the ladies' underwear pictures in the mail order catalog so their sons wouldn't start wondering about sex too young.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who pulled the pigtails of the girl who sat in the classroom seat in front of him—and caused her to cry.

If you asked a bartender to mix you a vodka Martini, he'd blink and say, "A what?"

Most big league ball players, when their careers ended, went back to farming.

To borrow money from a bank you first had to have something worth mortgaging.

Those were the days! Remember?

C. Elliott Dies Saturday

Clifford Elliott, 72, of 300 Newton St., Kingsford, died Saturday at the Dickinson County Hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was born April 27, 1897 in Ishpeming and lived on a farm in Wilson until 1922 when he moved to Iron Mountain. He was employed by the Ford Motor Co. until his retirement in 1952. Mr. Elliott was a member of the American Martyrs Church in Kingsford.

He is survived by his widow, Jean; six sons, Howard and Willard of Milwaukee, Gerald, Paul and Clifford Jr. of Iron Mountain and John at home; three daughters, Delores, Dorothy and Georgianna, at home; one brother, Homer of Kingsford and two sisters, Mrs. Ralph (Mary) Olson of Escanaba and Miss Laura Elliott of Bark River.

Friends may call at the Tondin Funeral Home in Iron Mountain from 4 to 9:30 p.m. today and the Parish Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the American Martyrs Church with the Rev. John Hughes officiating. Burial will be in the Iron Mountain Cemetery.

All-Electric Car Headed For U.P., To Stop Here

Michigan's long history of accomplishments in the automobile field will record another "first" Tuesday when the new Mars II all-electric car will depart from its Ferndale birthplace on a 550-mile trip to the 1969 Engineering Show, May 22-24, at Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

Announcement of the trip was made by R. F. Hoyer, chairman of the board and president of Upper Peninsula Power Co., Houghton, and Dr. Raymond L. Smith, president of the university.

Arrangements for the test drive and public viewing of the all-electric car were made through U.P. Power Co. at Houghton and Robert R. Aronson, president of Electric Fuel Propulsion, Inc. at Ferndale, and with the cooperation of Consumers Power Co. and the Edison-Sault Electric Co.

The all-electric car, which is scheduled to leave Detroit about 7 a.m. on Tuesday, will travel to Houghton via the Mackinac Bridge and Sault Ste. Marie. It will be the first all-electric car to cross the famous five-mile span which links Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas.

Chosen to drive the Mars II on this history making trip is Raymond A. Fischer of Grand Rapids, a senior Electrical Engineering student at Michigan Tech. Others accompanying Fischer will be representatives of Upper Peninsula Power Co., Donald F. Desotell, general sales manager, and John E. Koski, application engineer of Houghton.

Service stops for refueling, or in this case "re-charging of batteries," are scheduled for the following locations: Flint, Midland, Harrison, Gaylord, St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, Munising, Ishpeming and L'Anse.

A stop on the return trip is scheduled for the U.P. State Fairgrounds in Escanaba from 2:30 to 3:45 p.m. Monday, May 26. The car also is scheduled to stop at the Edison-Sault Electric Co. office in Manistique from 5 to 6:15 p.m. next Monday.

While its trip to Michigan's Upper Peninsula is another first for this area, the car's short history includes a similar experimental test run on a westerly route to Arizona, concluded Mr. Hoyer and Dr. Smith.

Mrs. L. Smith Dies On Sunday

Mrs. Lula Mae Smith, 79, of Germfask, died Sunday afternoon at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. She was born March 28, 1890 in Mt. Pleasant and had resided in Germfask Township for many years. Her husband Joseph died in 1950.

She is survived by 7 sons, Joseph of Cedarville, James Pat and Arthur of Germfask, David of Munising, Fred of Hessel, Frank of Detroit and John of Saginaw; seven daughters, Mrs. Telford Burton and Mrs. Irvin Miller of Germfask, Mrs. Leonard Kubont of Shingleton, Mrs. Glenn Short of Seney, Mrs. Theodore Forter of Leslie, Mrs. Charles Henry of Vestaburg and Mrs. Joseph Cieslinski of Greenville; 55 grandchildren, 59 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Friends may call at the Kefauver and Jackson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. Tuesday and at the Germfask Methodist Church from 1 to 2 p.m. Wednesday. Funeral services will be conducted at the church at 2 p.m. Wednesday and burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Kazoo Firemen Stay Home

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The president of the Kalamazoo Firemen's Union vowed that "no shift will report to work" until a contract dispute is settled, as firemen stayed home in an apparent wave of "blue flu."

Jack Keiser, union president, said 10 firemen called in sick Sunday, forcing the city to close two of Kalamazoo's eight fire stations.

Kalamazoo's 147 fire fighters have been working without a contract since their old pact expired Dec. 31, 1968.

The city and the union held their first contract talks in two months last Monday, but the negotiations broke off quickly when city bargainers rejected a firefighter's recommendation for settlement.

The firemen had said they were willing to accept firefighter M. David Keefe's recommendation that they get a raise equal to one recently given Kalamazoo policemen.

Firemen in the city walked off their jobs once before, but returned to work under a court order. But Keiser said, "No shift will report to work until this dispute has been settled, court order or no court order."

Rapid River Names Its Honor Students

RAPID RIVER — Principal Terrence Johnson has announced Rapid River High School's valedictorian and salutatorian for the Class of 1969. Valedictorian honors go to Klint Safford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Safford of Ensign and salutatorian honors to Lorraine Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayer Jacobson of Stonington.

Klint has maintained a 3.98 average out of a possible 4.0 during his four years of high school. Klint has served as president of the student council for his senior and junior years; class president, 2 years; co-editor of the school yearbook; forensics, 4 years; varsity basketball 3 years; cross country and track teams 4 years. Klint attended Wolverine Boys State in 1968, has had 9 years of 4-H club work where he served as county Teenleader president for 2 years.

Klint will enter Michigan State University, East Lansing for the 1969 fall term. He will major in the field of Natural Resources.

Lorraine Jacobson earned a 3.52 average for her four years of high school studies. She served consecutively on the school's student council for four years. She was elected secretary of the council this year. Lorraine has been a varsity cheerleader for three years and was elected school homecoming queen by an all school election this year.

She has been school accompanist for special programs for three years and a member of the school's choral groups. Lorraine's extra-curricular activities have included Luther League and church organist at the Stonington Trinity Lutheran Church. Her plans for after school are indefinite at this time.

Belgium Royalty Visits States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The King and Queen of Belgium arrive in Palm Beach, Fla. today for a six-day visit to the United States. They are scheduled to witness the Apollo 10 space launch at Cape Kennedy Sunday and lunch with President and Mrs. Nixon in Washington Tuesday.

Briefly Told

Randy Johnson was incorrectly identified as Rudy Johnson in a picture in Friday's Press. The young man was one of the student "councilmen" in the annual government day observance.

Two motorists received traffic court summonses from city police after they were involved in separate accidents. Pierre Tousignant, 22, of Montreal, Canada, was ticketed for failing to exercise due care; and Jean Marie Kell of 327 N. 14th St., for following too closely.

Bark River

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Skrobak and Mrs. Stafford Desjardins, victims in the head-on collision Sunday afternoon, were released from St. Francis Hospital Tuesday. Mr. Desjardins is still there. Delores, eight year old daughter of the Desjardins, was taken to Manistique for treatment by a bone specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kwarciany were in Butler, Wis. for the weekend to attend the First Communion services for their granddaughter, Patricia Kwarciany, at St. Agnes Catholic Church, Saturday. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kwarciany.

George Anderson Rises To Major In Army Reserves

The Department of the Army announces the promotion of Captain George C. Anderson, Escanaba, to the rank of major in the U. S. Army Reserves.

Major Anderson's military career began as a private in 1940. He trained in camps in Louisiana, was then sent to Ireland and England with the first American forces overseas. He participated in the Normandy invasion, and saw combat duty in France, Belgium, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Discharged in 1945 as a platoon sergeant, he enlisted in the Michigan National Guard. He attended schools and took extension courses at Fort Belvoir, Va., where he received an appointment as second lieutenant. He has served 20 years in the Michigan National Guard, rising to the rank of captain and serving as unit commander of an engineer company for eight years.

He served as a military instructor, training and supply officer, executive and transportation officer; served in the 1967 Detroit riots, and was recalled again to Lansing in 1968 for possible riot duty. He is a member of the County Civil Defense organization and has a membership in the proposed State of Michigan Defense Force.

Sheila Hafeman
SalutatorianCindy Lynch
Valedictorian

VALEDICTORIAN OF THE Powers-Spalding High School Class of 1969 is Cindy Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lynch of Carney. Sheila Hafeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hafeman of Powers, was named Salutatorian. Miss Lynch, who has participated in band, FHA, forensics, dramatics, cheerleading and yearbook activities, earned a 3.86 grade point average. She is a member and also junior organist at St. Francis Xavier Church. She plans to major in elementary education at Northern Michigan University. She is the recipient of the Margaret Wallace Scholarship from NMU and also the Michigan Higher Education Scholarship. Miss Hafeman earned a 3.68 grade point. As a sophomore and senior, she was elected class treasurer. She has been a member of FHA for four years and served on the planning committee for the junior and senior plays. She also is editor of the yearbook. She plans to major in elementary education at Marion College, Fond du Lac, Wis.

Court Changes

For the first time since the United States Supreme Court first convened in 1790, a justice of that court has resigned under fire. The resignation of Abe Fortas from the nation's highest court last week came after Life magazine's disclosure that the associate justice had accepted and then returned a $20,000 fee from a foundation established by Louis Wolfson, who has since been convicted of stock manipulation and sentenced to prison.

Fortas previously came under suspicion last year after President Johnson had nominated him as chief justice of the Supreme Court to succeed Earl Warren, who indicated his desire to resign from the bench. Senate conservatives, led by Michigan's Robert Griffin, succeeded in blocking confirmation of Fortas, and Warren agreed to continue serving as chief justice until the end of the current court term next month.

Fortas' unprecedented resignation under pressure will have far-reaching consequences on the American political scene. History may record it as the turning point in the liberal, activist era of the court.

Under Chief Justice Warren, the Supreme Court has charted a course of aggressive liberalism that has given the nation new direction. The journey has not been smooth, but it has produced some changes for the better, most notably the landmark decision of 1954 striking down segregation in the nation's schools.

The so-called "Warren Court" has handed down many controversial decisions, often on a 5-4 split in vote, covering civil rights, criminal rights and reapportionment of state legislatures. It has consistently supported federal regulatory powers over business and industry. Storms of protest have been spawned in the wake of its decisions on prayer in schools, pornography and the rights of individuals accused of committing crimes.

Since his appointment to the court by Johnson, Fortas has most often sided with the court's liberal wing. A brilliant attorney before being named to the bench, he became an articulate defendant of minorities, juveniles and impoverished criminal suspects in Supreme Court cases involving these people. His liberalism did not lead him to attack corporations or the American involvement in the Vietnam War, however. But in most other areas, he was considered a predictable liberal.

Fortas' career on the Supreme Court has ended abortively, and Warren's distinguished tenure as chief justice will be over in mid-June. This will present President Nixon with the opportunity to name a new chief justice and an associate justice before the court reconvenes next fall.

During his campaign last year, Nixon indicated he would appoint "strict constitutionalist" judges if he were elected. The Fortas resignation gives him almost complete latitude in his selection (since Fortas leaves the court under a cloud and weakens the position of the liberals), and all observers expect Nixon to appoint successors to Fortas and Warren who will give the court a conservative majority. (Appointees sometimes do not perform according to expectations, however, as witness Hugo Black, a Deep Southerner who became one of the court's liberal spokesmen, or Justice Warren himself, a moderate who led the court's activist era.)

In fact, Nixon may find himself in a position to name a complete majority of five members of the Supreme Court before his own four-year term as President expires. In addition to Warren and Fortas, these could include successors to three of the court's senior members. They are Justice Black, who is 83; Justice William Douglas, who is 70, and Justice John Harlan, who will be 70 next week.

Barring completely unexpected developments, the Supreme Court's age of liberalism and activism has come to at least a temporary halt.

Funds For Agitation

Have you ever wondered who foots the bill for peace demonstrations, poor people's marches, college sit-ins and other forms of radical activity which the country is now experiencing?

In a shocking number of instances it is the American taxpayer. Not by choice, but by compulsion, he finances the activities of some who plot his destruction.

He pays taxes to a government which believes it must take a leading role in creating social change. Under the banner of fighting poverty, Washington has conferred tax funds on all manner of activists, some of them sincerely motivated toward the poor, some of them not.

The citizen pays in other ways, too. Some philanthropic foundations which enjoy tax-exempt status are increasingly involving themselves in radical politics. Their tax-exemptions, which the Internal Revenue Service continues to honor despite prohibitions on overt political activity, are indirect government subsidies to agitation.

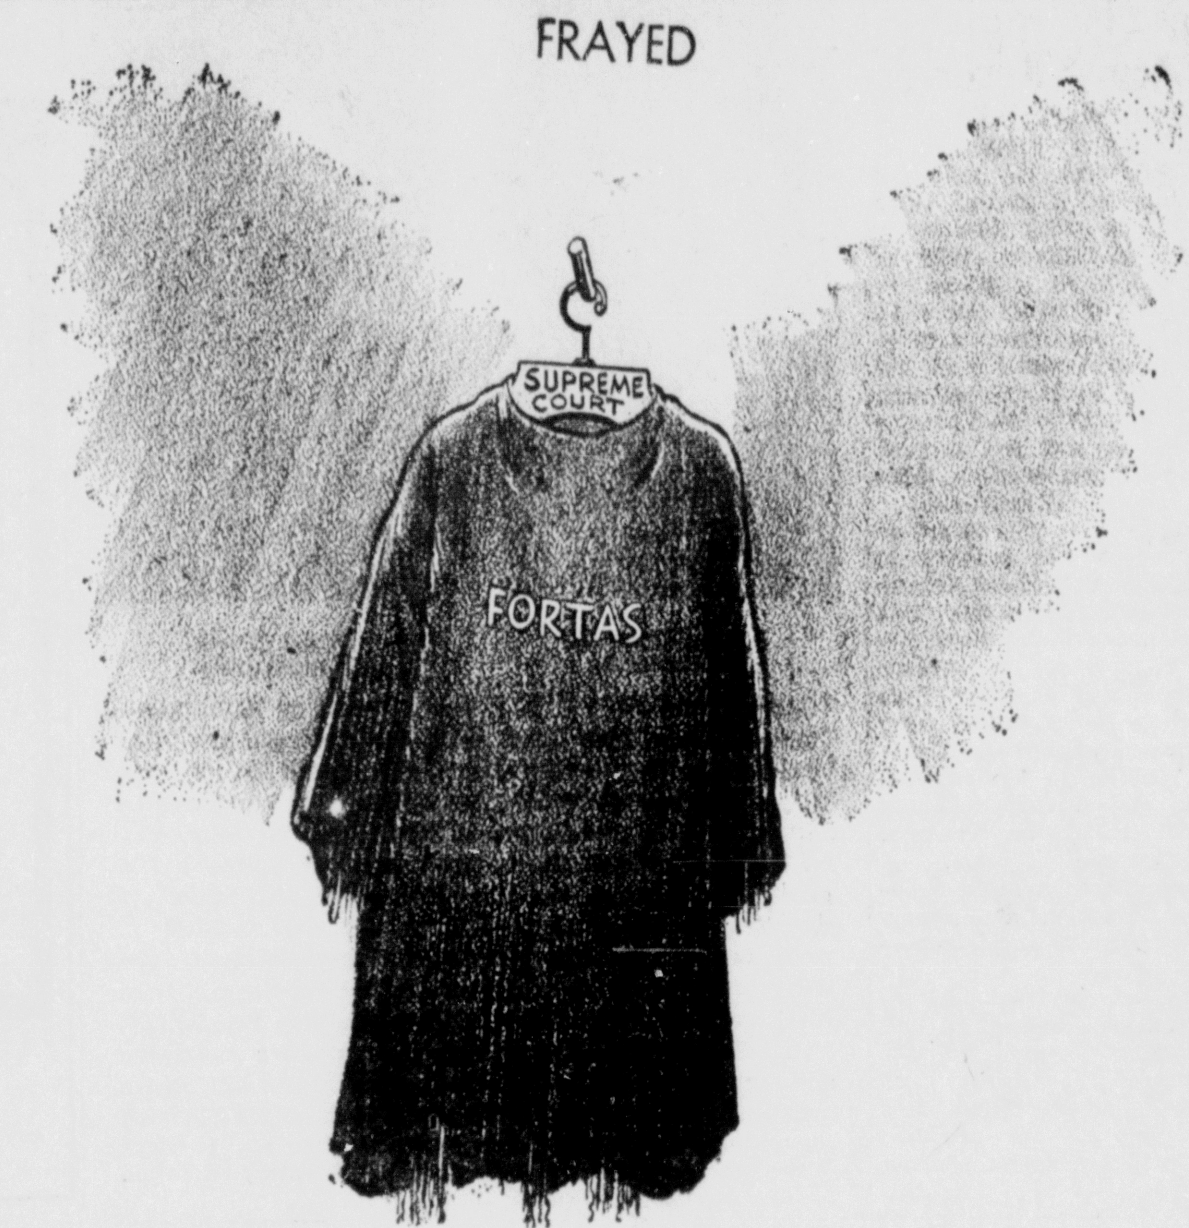

A study published recently by the American Conservative Union cites several instances in which the Ford Foundation has subsidized militant leftist activity:

- The foundation contributed to New York City's school decentralization experiments and, in particular, gave a $77,000 grant to the Ocean Hill-Brownsville project, scene of most of the troubles during the recent teachers strike.

- Herman Ferguson, member of the Marxist Revolutionary Action Movement, who urges replacing the American flag with the banner of black nationalism, drew a salary from the foundation.

- The foundation has given sizable sums to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sponsor of the Poor People's March.

If the big money foundations want to create social upheaval, that is their business. But they should not at the same time enjoy tax exemptions.

Business Holds Hope For Mid-East Peace

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

H. G. Wells, who used to be regarded as the world's oracle, liked to say that the future was a race between education and catastrophe. If he had lived to see the doings at Harvard, Columbia, the City College of New York, and California's Berkeley, he might have decided that education, as practiced in America, is in itself a species of catastrophe.

The letters this column gets from students supporting the "idealism" of the current college generation breathe an almost total ignorance of such things as the history of Marxism, the actual contributions of capitalism, the geographical basis of politics, the significance of the balance of power in world history, and the psychopathology of totalitarian governments. It will not do, of course, to confuse the letter writers with the entire body of college undergraduates, but there are enough of them to be a cause for worry, inasmuch as they are setting up shop as the leaders of the future.

Since education has, in its way, become synonymous with catastrophe, we must look elsewhere for human hope. I find it in the race between the mundane world of commercial and related scientific development and the spirit of war.

Thus, in the Middle East, which many critics say is the incubation theater for World War III, some 200 American firms continue to invest in Israel despite the Arab threat to renew the war against the "Zionists." They do this in spite of the official Arab boycott of anything produced inside the Israeli borders. The Dodge division of the Chrysler Company continues to roll out trucks from its assembly plant in Nazareth (which, incidentally, has an Arab mayor who was once a refugee in Lebanon). Motorola, Zenith, Monsanto Chemical, and Ford have important Israeli operations. Neither the threats of boycott in Cairo nor the supposed imminence of war keep these and other American companies from betting on the Middle Eastern future.

It is not idealism that supports the American investment in Israel, although we do have our pro-Israeli businessmen.

The reason most companies prefer to trust their future to the Israeli star is that they find it more profitable than cultivating Arab good will.

Israel, in contrast to the Arab countries, has a modern economy: it assembles automobiles, it has a thriving electronic development, it is pre-eminent in chemical and medical research, the discoveries made in its aircraft parts industry have actually turned the French Mirage into a good military plane, and it has found a market for Dead Sea bromine as a first-rate material for fire-proofing wood. Inasmuch as trade is possible only between countries that have something to sell to each other, Israel is worth cultivating where other Middle Eastern countries are not.

Coming back from the Middle East, Jack R. Carlin, who runs the research products division of Miles Laboratories, Inc., gave this column a good run-down on the reasons his company set up a citric acid plant in Israel. With a market all over Africa and Asia for citric acid, it was good business to locate in Israel because of its central location. But, beyond that, there was the opportunity to make use of the mind products of Israeli scientists, who are among the best in the world in such departments as molecular biology.

Although Israel is an embattled nation, it leaves its scientists alone; there is no pressure on them to do commercial or military work. Paradoxically, however, the basic research of Israeli scientists has resulted in some 900 products which Miles Laboratories, Inc., finds saleable throughout the world. The Israelis have pioneered the use of isotopes in tracing sources of water, for example, and they have made great advances in the molecular biology that deals with the so-called "building blocks" of genetics.

If the Arab world is ever to recover from the sluggishness that resulted from the long period of subjugation by the Turks ("where the Turk sets foot, the grass never grows"), it will have to make peace with Israeli technologists and agricultural scientists. Even as things stand at present, there are a thousand leaks in the Arab boycott of Israel. The bridges across the Jordan never seem to get shelled although border incidents are a dime a dozen; while the guerrilla raids and the retaliation go on, trucks carrying goods to and from Israel continue their commercial way. And the Hilton, Sheraton, and Holiday Inn Hotel chains operate both in Israel and in Arab lands without visible discrimination.

Commerce thus undermines the spirit of revenge, and the future has become a race between the technicians who dominate modern business and the Nassers who continue to talk war.

Jobless Figures Don't Balance Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes the nation's job figures don't seem to add up, indicating that perhaps a major factor in the equation is being overlooked or not given its proper weight.

In April, for example, the jobless rate went up to 3.5 per cent of the labor force, but the latest studies of the help wanted columns in newspapers show a record high demand for workers.

Construction companies are falling behind schedule on contracts because they can't find enough labor, some of it unskilled, but the latest figures show a rise in unemployment among the unskilled.

The National Alliance of Businessmen, formed to search out jobs for the hard-core unemployed, reports unusual success in finding jobs for nonwhites, but unemployment among Negroes jumped sharply last month.

There are some logical explanations for these contrasts, of course, one of the major ones being geographical. Thousands of miles, for example, may separate job and job seeker.

Lots of other reasons too: skills become outmoded; teenagers seeking their first jobs have no skills to offer; companies move and leave pockets of unemployment. And there is discrimination, not always overt or intended.

But increasingly it appears that the biggest missing factor in the explanation is education, for in all the ups and downs of the job charts there always remain that correlation between education and jobs.

The importance of education to the individual and to the nation is pointed up in a study by the National Planning Association entitled "Manpower Needs for National Goals in the 1970s."

A manpower shortage, the study states, will prevent the United States from fully achieving during the 1970s some of its most important goals. There will be more jobs than workers, according to this projection, but you can bet there will be plenty of people looking for work and not finding it.

Health goals, it suggests, could be frustrated by a shortage of doctors, dentists and nurses. Some 18,000 more doctors would be needed each year in the 1970s, it states, but medical schools may graduate only 8,750.

The evidence—both from reports of Israeli scientists, who are among the best in the world in such departments as molecular biology.

Commerce thus undermines the spirit of revenge, and the future has become a race between the technicians who dominate modern business and the Nassers who continue to talk war.

cent job statistics and the projections of future needs—indicate that the solution of the job problem lies in proper education and effective apprenticeship systems.

The experience seems to indicate that most other measures are stopgap; they provide a quick answer to an immediate need, but they offer little of permanence. Education does.

School To Fly Militants' Flag

DETROIT (AP) — The principal of a Detroit inner city high school has agreed to fly the black, red and green flag of militant black separatists beneath the U.S. flag on the school flagpole.

Dr. John Peterson, the school's principal, said after two days of unrest and negotiations with students that the flag would start flying Monday, the birthdate of the late Malcolm X.

Nearly 100 students walked out of the school Thursday and hauled down the American flag and repeated the action Friday. There was no violence either day, school officials said.

Peterson said a meeting with parents indicated the overwhelming majority felt the militants' tricolor should fly with the Stars and Stripes.

The flag was first flown when Marcus Garvey proclaimed himself provisional president of the Republic of Africa, a separatist group, in 1921. It has since been adopted by the Republic of New Africa, which has as its aim the establishment of a separate nation in the area occupied by five southern states.

The black in the flag represents the color of the people, the red stands for blood spilled in quest of freedom and the green represents hope and land, leaders of the RNA have explained.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

The bidding:
East 4♥ South 4NT West 5♣ North Pass

Opening lead — king of hearts.

This hand was played by the British star, A. Hutchinson, who held the South cards. He got to five spades doubled on the sequence shown, and while there appears to be no way of avoiding the loss of two spades and a club, Hutchinson managed to make the contract by exceptionally fine play.

He ruffed the heart lead and decided that on the bidding West probably held the three missing trumps. Accordingly, after thinking the matter over, Hutchinson adopted the exceptionally farsighted view that in order to have a chance for the contract he would have to try to eliminate one of West's natural trump tricks.

Since the diamond finesse had to be taken in any case, South led a diamond to the queen at trick two. When the finesse won, declarer ruffed the remaining heart, returned to dummy with a diamond, and this time ruffed a diamond.

Hutchinson next cashed the A-K of clubs, hoping that the queen would fall, in which case the contract would become a certainty. When it didn't, he exited with a club, producing this position:

East was forced to return a heart and Hutchinson made the key play of ruffing in dummy with the eight. He then trumped a diamond with the seven and led the five of clubs.

West had only spades left at this point and could make just one more trick, regardless of what he did. So Hutchinson made five spades doubled.

Special Patrols Memorial Day

EAST LANSING (AP)—Beefed-up highway patrols are planned by State Police over the Memorial Day weekend.

Col. Fredrick Davids said district commanders have been advised to use all men available, from detectives up to post commanders, as traffic safety officers.

Special patrols will start at noon Thursday and continue through midnight Sunday.

Davids said that 40 persons were killed over the Memorial Day period last year, and there were 43 deaths in the Memorial weekends of 1966 and 1967.

Presidents William Howard Taft and John F. Kennedy are buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

Ann Landers

Child's Love For Dog More Important

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice to Sad Eyes made my 10-year-old cry. How could you be so heartless as to suggest that "Sweetie," a nine-year-old dog who had been a family pet since puppyhood, be given away? Just because a dog ruins a few carpets is no excuse to break a child's heart. And do you know what this would do to Sweetie? He would surely die of loneliness. Please change your advice before you are deluged with letters from people who will take your hide off?—Wyoming

Dear Wy: It's too late. The deluge has started. And the readers are against me 100 to 1. Read on:

Dear Ann: Your advice that an indoor dog be given to a farmer is typical of the dumb things city people come up with. Farmers are already overrun with dog owners who don't know the first thing about animals.

I disagree that a nine-year-old dog cannot be housebroken. Perhaps not in his customary surroundings, but I'll bet if they build a dog house and enforce some new rules, Sweetie could be taught to mind his manners. — Mrs. G. H. G.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 10 years old I have a dog. When he wets on my mother's carpet I take some paper towels and blot it up. I use my foot. Then I pour white vinegar on the spot. It fixes everything.—Dog Lover

Dear Ann: Our family refuses to believe that you consider wall-to-wall carpeting more important than a child's love for his dog. We have antique oriental rugs in our home and the spots made by our nervous little poodle and our lazy golden retriever has added character to these priceless floor coverings. Shame on you, Ann.—Pittsburgh

Dear Ann: Your suggestion that a dog who has been a house pet for six years be given to a farmer was not a humane solution. To ask an aged dog to adjust to new people and new environment is unreasonable. It would be much better for the dog if they put him to sleep.—M. Y. of Williamsport

Dear Ann Landers: Are you on vacation? Please come back. I can't believe you gave that stupid answer. So the dog did a few things on the rug. So what? The notion that it is perfectly O.K. to get rid of anything that presents a challenge is exactly what's wrong with society today. If you don't like school you drop out. If you don't like marriage you bust it up. If you don't like a job you quit. And now Ann Landers comes along and says if you can't housebreak your dog give him to a farmer. Think it over, Toots.—Winnipeg

Wear Winnie: I have thought it over and the next time I get a letter asking for advice about a dog I'm going to consult the people who have dogs. Rugs I know something about but I'm no authority on dogs and my answer proved it.

Friendly In Line For Abe Fortas' Position: WJR

DETROIT (AP) — Radio station WJR said Friday night it had learned that field of likely successors to Abe Fortas as Supreme Court justice has been narrowed to two men.

Quoting unnamed sources WJR said that Judge Henry Friendly of the U. S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals in New York "is considered the most likely to replace Fortas."

The station said that Judge Warren Burger of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals also has been mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Fortas.

Fortas resigned this week after coming under widespread congressional criticism for having accepted, then returned 11 months later, a $20,000 fee from the Wolfson Family Foundation connected with Louis Wolfson, a financier serving a prison term for illegal dealings in securities.

WJR said President Nixon is expected to name Fortas' successor within two weeks.

FCC Awaiting Court Ruling On Pay Television

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission appears inclined to await the outcome of a court challenge to its contested pay television plan before approving any applications.

At the same time, the agency is said to be prepared to let its proposed pay TV rules go into effect on schedule June 12.

The holdup would come, sources say, at the ultimate stage of permitting actual operations.

The limited system which the FCC authorized last December now is the subject of a nationwide petition campaign backed by the National Association of Theater Owners. The petitions are being circulated at shopping centers, pegged to this slogan: "Save Your Free TV."

It is this same association which is contesting the FCC proposal in the Court of Appeals here, with a decision hoped for this fall.

Board Members Run Unopposed At Trenary

TRENNARY — The annual school board election for the Mathias Township District will be held Monday, June 9.

Mrs. Sarah Smith, secretary, announced that only two nominating petitions were filed.

Both incumbents, William Davis and Glenn Peterson, will run unopposed for four-year terms.

A special proposal to increase the school tax millage over the 15-mill limitation distributed by the county will also be voted upon. This proposal is a request by the Board of Education to renew for five years an increase of 20 mills for operational purposes.

The Board of Education has the use of this 20 extra-voted mills for the 1969 tax year. Fifteen mills were voted in 1964 and another five mills authorized at the 1967 election. During the past two years the board of education has released one extra-voted mill from the tax levy. Any qualified school elector may vote on the millage issue.

Girls Renew Scout Pledges

Twenty sixth grade girls from four junior troops re-dedicated themselves to the Girl Scout movement Saturday as they advanced from the junior level to the Cadette level of scouting in candle light ceremonies Saturday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Badges and awards were presented by Mrs. Don Chamberlain.

Linda Christiansen earned the rank of first class scout, the highest honor at the Cadette level. Other advancement awards were received by Roberta Breclaw, Karen Wellman, Judy Pepin, Mary Myers, Joyce McMonagle, Debbie Ryan, Patti Benard, and Linda Christiansen.

Three girls — Linda Christiansen, Debbie Ryan and Joyce McMonagle — were capped as senior scouts by seniors Catherine Prinski, Pat Douglas and Margaret Mosenfelder.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls interested in scouting may contact Mrs. Chamberlain, 786-3234.

In Service

Thuds, Chlorine In Water Bother Astronauts

Shepard's 15 minute, 22 second flight May 5, 1961.

As the bullet-shaped ship sped from earth's grasp, hooked nose-to-nose with the ungainly space taxi that will take Stafford and Cernan close to the moon's surface Wednesday, its crewmen found time to share their exploits with TV viewers on the ground—and to exult over the sights.

Instead of transmitting only 15 minutes as planned, the color cameras went on four times for a total of 72 minutes.

Unbelievable

The earth, partly swaddled in clouds and glowing brilliant blue and brown against the black velvet of space, prompted Cernan to exclaim:

"You blink your eyes and look out there; and you know it's three dimensional. But it's just sitting out there in the middle of nowhere. It's unbelievable."

Then he said: "Just for the record, it looks like a pretty nice place to live." Before they retired for the night, Stafford commented, "Sounds like we'll soon be 55,000 miles out."

"That's right," said mission control.

"Sounds like a long way from home, Joe," Stafford replied. "That's right," said astronaut Joe Engle, the communicator on the night shift. "You guys covered a lot of ground today."

While they slept, their spacecraft traveled another 36,000 miles—slowing constantly from the 24,293 miles an hour that enabled it to leave earth's grasp.

Chattiest

The Apollo 16 crew was easily the chattiest to date.

"We just want to thank all the people who helped us get up here, Stafford said once. "That includes the taxpayers, too."

The mission is costing about $350 million.

All three astronauts said before the flight they wanted to do as much telecasting as possible. "We want to share it with you because you can see what's behind the gee whizzes and oh golly that we speak of during the flight," Cernan said.

Circle Moon

At 3:34 p.m. Wednesday, the spacecraft begins circling the moon—duplicating the feat performed for the first time during the Christmastime flight of Apollo 8.

But Thursday morning at 10:30 a.m., if everything goes right, Stafford and Cernan will crawl through the nose of their spacecraft into the lunar lander.

Three hours later, Stafford and Cernan will cut the spider-like craft from the mother ship and dip down to within 9.3 miles of the moon's surface in man's closest approach to another celestial body.

Looking for any moon barriers that could prove dangerous, they'll sweep near one of the sites where an American may walk in nine weeks.

The three astronauts are

Youth Arts Festival Featured This Week

The Optimist Club of Escanaba, with the cooperation of Escanaba Area Public Schools, Holy Name High School, and the Michigan Council for the Arts, will sponsor the first annual Delta County Youth Arts Festival beginning on Education Day, Thursday, May 22. The public is invited to attend all the activities.

The opening program will be the Escanaba Area Public Schools Elementary Honors Concert, to be presented to the public in the gymnasium of the Area Senior High School at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Included will be the Elementary Honors Orchestra directed by the Area string instructors, Erwin Orban and Robert Chase. Mrs. Beverly Moraco and Mrs. M. H. Garrard will direct Honor choruses from their respective schools, and John Chown and David Laakso will direct the Honor Band.

Friday night, May 23rd, activities will begin with an open house at 7 p.m. in the Area High School of all art work from the Area schools with John Gustafson, Escanaba Area High School art instructor, as chairman.

Featured will be static displays from the industrial arts and home arts departments, and various individual art works from Gustafson's art classes.

At 7:30 p.m., a one act drama festival will be presented in the Area High School Auditorium. Four plays will be presented with two casts from Holy Name High School under the direction of Brother Christopher Cavanaugh, and two casts from Escanaba Area High School under the direction of Peter Adamini.

Open house for the art's displays will continue on Saturday. At 10:30 a.m. Saturday morning Marvin Zehnder, art instructor from Northern Michigan University, will present a pottery demonstration at the Area High School. His appearance is sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

At 2:30 p.m. Saturday, the Delta County Youth Choir, whose members are from Holy Name High School and Escanaba Area High School, will present the first half of a Fine Arts Concert in the Area High School auditorium. The five numbers that the choir will sing will be directed by Mrs. Donald LeMire and Conrad Beck. Special groups from these two schools will also complement the program.

The Ann Arbor Civic Ballet, a company of 16 members directed by Mrs. Sylvia Hamer, will present excerpts from two famous ballets. This company's appearance in Escanaba is also being sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

The Youth Arts Festival Activities will culminate in a combined concert in the Area High School gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening May 24th. The concert will include the Escanaba Area High School orchestra with Miss Sue Fletcher, soprano, and William Van-Effen, pianist, as soloists. The orchestra will be directed by Robert Chase.

John R. Chown will direct the Escanaba Area High School Concert Band in several selections as the later half of the program.

The program is an earnest undertaking on the part of the directors to help the community celebrate Michigan Week and the public is invited to support all of the events.

Payant Votes Against Bills

State Rep. John D. Payant (R-Iron Mountain) voted against both the parochial amendment and the state public school aid bill in the Michigan House of Representatives last week.

Reports of Payant's votes were omitted in Saturday's Daily Press.

Firm Picketed; Protest Firing Of Ghetto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — A railroad car manufacturer in a Detroit suburb needs welders and decides to hire from the hard-core unemployed through a federally financed program.

It takes an ex-convict to help recruit workers "because he understood the people in the ghetto."

Three-hundred or 84 workers — the number is disputed — are fired for alleged violation of a union contract.

A black congressman says the situation "raises some grave doubts about the rest of these programs for hiring the hard-core unemployed" and asks the Labor Department to investigate.

These are the elements of the situation at Paragon Division of Portec, Inc., where picketers disrupted activity for five days before a judge granted a restraining order late last week.

Get Menial Jobs

They all add up to "a pattern of oppression that works in business, unions and even the courts," says U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D - Mich., in whose district live most of the workers involved.

The strikers at Paragon, whose parent company is based in Chicago, claim blacks hired under two federal programs are always given the worst and most menial jobs in the plant and that there is no medical personnel on hand during the afternoon shift, when most are at work.

"Not so," protests Paragon's personnel director, David K. Waterloo. "Sure they're mostly welders, but that's just about all we hire here," he said.

"But some of them do go to be machine operators and some have gone even higher." The man who went the highest, ex-convict Bernard Spann who made it all the way to assistant personnel director, is no longer at Paragon.

Against Federal Plan

"I left because I found the original goal of the government

helping people have careers just wasn't working," said Spann, who is now a Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce official. "The company will tell you I quit, but I was actually asked to leave because I let them know I didn't like the way they were using the program."

"Using the program" for its own benefit is the way Waterloo outlines his firm's whole purpose in getting involved.

"We found we could be reimbursed at least all our hiring expenses and decided to take advantage of this program," he said. This means hard-core unemployed hired under one federal ally financed program are being replaced under another one. "The Novi, Mich., firm has 'taken advantage' to the tune of $8,400 in one program and $300,000 in another."

The fired strikers say they walked out because Shopmen Local 508 of the Iron Workers Union was completely unresponsive to their complaints.

Hire Others

In effect, Waterloo confirms this. "We've now got 40 workers in the plant from the newest program, the $300,000 Labor Department - Office of Economic Opportunity plan," he said.

"We'll have 20 more from it on Monday and within a few weeks our force will be back up to 525, where it was before we let these 84 go."

The strikers, led by the Rev. William Collquitt of Inkster, say the 84 firings are only the latest installment, claiming 200 others have been fired in the last three weeks.

Waterloo contends there is nothing unusual or bad about his replacing the fired workers through the federal program. "If I couldn't get these people, I'd have to pay to train others myself," he says. "You just can't hire qualified welders off the street."

Milliken Makes Board Selections

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has announced three appointments to the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Named were Drs. Gerald Kooistra of Wyoming, Harry Bondhouse of Kalamazoo and Warren McAlpine of Durand. Senate confirmation is required.

The governor also reappointed Jackson K. Beatty of Mount Pleasant to the State Aeronautics Commission, Charles Trickey Jr. of Tecumseh to the Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees and Eugene J. Ellison of St. Clair Shores to the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Beatty's nomination is subject to Senate confirmation. The others are not.

Transfer Troopers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Police have announced the transfer of Trooper Carl E. Hendrickson of Calumet and David G. Townsend of Ionia to the East Lansing Post. Trooper James L. Pickelman of Flat Rock is transferred to the Detroit post.

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends on your sense of humor. If interrupting your washing or ironing to rush upstairs to answer the telephone leaves you breathless, then an extension telephone makes good sense.

An extension telephone saves steps and lets you do your telephoning from where you are. You can select from many smart styles and decorative colors.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can have an extension telephone in any funny old place you'd like.

Chrysler, Japanese Firm Agree On Automobile Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. appeared today to have achieved a major breakthrough into the rich Japanese auto market, long closed to American firms.

Chrysler and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries of Tokyo, Japan's fourth largest auto firm, announced Sunday they had worked out an agreement which could lead to joint production of cars in Japan and sale of the cars in the United States.

Surprise
The two firms announced only scant details of their proposed formation of a joint venture company in which Mitsubishi would hold a 65 per cent interest and Chrysler 35 per cent. They made no mention of the amount of money involved.

Japanese government officials reportedly were surprised by the announcement. Deputy Minister Yoshifumi Kumagai of the International Trade and Industry Ministry said he had not been informed about it and added that the ministry will examine it closely before deciding whether to approve it.

Chrysler's agreement with the Japanese firm came with surprising swiftness after Yoshiro Makita, executive vice president of Mitsubishi, flew to Detroit last week for an unpublished visit.

Irving J. Minetti, Chrysler group vice president — international, cautioned that the agreement was subject to approval of the Japanese government.

He said, "The extent to which the agreement might lead to direct Chrysler participation in any form in Japan would depend not only on further development of the agreement but also the extent to which the Japanese government might permit it."

To Supply Coils
There was some speculation that one of the first fruits of the agreement might be the marketing in the United States of a six-passenger, over-100-horsepower Mitsubishi car called Coit.

"Everything is in the discussion stages but I would imagine that the Coit—if it is introduced in the U.S. market—would be handled by Chrysler's present dealer force," a Chrysler aide said.

He said that insofar as he knew, there were no plans to build additional plants in Japan for the Chrysler-Mitsubishi venture but that instead, present facilities of the Japanese firm would be used or expanded.

The fact that the Chrysler-Mitsubishi negotiations had reached such an advanced stage caught most Detroit auto executives by surprise.

Chrysler Technique
It marked the same technique Chrysler had used in recent years in its successful efforts to get into the auto business in England, France and Spain.

In France, for example, Chrysler originally bought 25 per cent of the Simca company in 1958 and convinced then-French President Charles De Gaulle that it would be good for Chrysler and for France.

In 1965, Chrysler bought an interest in Rootes Motor Co. and calmed the fears of some Labor Party members.

In 1968, Chrysler bought a 40 per cent share of Barreros-Diesel, a Spanish truck and auto firm.

Japan's restrictions on foreign investment in its auto industry are more stringent than any of those three countries. Japan's restrictions also apply to auto imports and are so tight that only 15,000 cars were imported into Japan last year while it exported 612,000 — about 71,000 of them to the United States.

The Detroit auto industry, along with the U.S. State Department, has sought an easing of the Japanese restrictions but no major breakthrough was sighted until Chrysler's announcement this weekend.

Robert Byers, Lansing, Dies

Robert J. Byers, 71, of Lansing, died Saturday at St. Lawrence Hospital, Lansing, following a long illness.

Mr. Byers retired March 1, 1968, as executive assistant to the director of the Office of Economic Expansion, Michigan Dept. of Commerce. He had served as the top Civil Service employee of that agency and its predecessor, the Michigan Dept. of Economic Development, since 1949. Most of this time he had been in charge of the agency's industrial development program as deputy director and chief of the industrial development division. From Feb. 1962, to May, 1963, he served as acting director of the department.

He was born March 11, 1898, in Baraga. He received his early education in Baraga and Houghton schools, later attending Champion College, Prairie du Chien, Wis., Western Michigan University and the University of Michigan.

In 1924, he organized the national child welfare division of the American Legion. Later he became adjutant and welfare director of the Michigan Dept. of the American Legion.

In 1943, he married Marion Stratton, formerly of Escanaba.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, James in the U.S. Army and John of Lansing, six daughters, Mrs. Kenneth (Anne) Walchunas of Detroit, Margaret, Catherine, Mary, Sharon and Marian, all of Lansing, and a sister, Margaret.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Mary's Cathedral, Lansing, with Rev. James J. O'Meara officiating. Arrangements are being made by Estes Leadley Funeral Home, Lansing. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Lansing.

Drop Deferments, Yet There Are Fewer Graduates

students from "pyramiding" one deferment on top of another and thus staying out of the draft pool indefinitely.

Something apparently has not gone according to plan. Manpower experts both inside and outside government suggest various explanations.

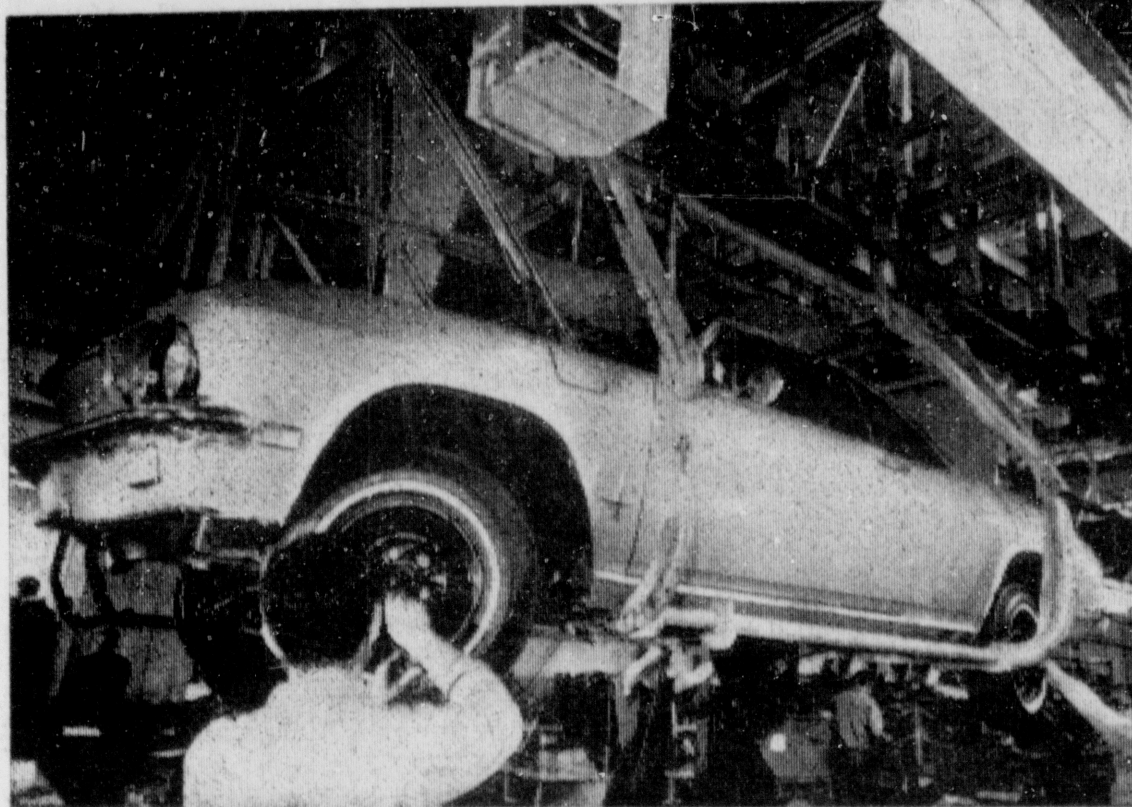

All agree that an important factor was draft director Lewis B. Hershey's instruction to allow postponements of induction until the end of a school term.

Draft boards could have been inordinately slow to reclassify students, and many students may have appealed the reclassifications, creating additional delay.

Experts also believe many students have obtained occupational deferments—either as teaching assistants in the schools where they study, or by quitting school for private industry.

The U.S. Office of Education reports that enrollments in graduate schools it surveyed rose only one per cent last fall, compared with an average 12 per cent in previous years.

That would mean an apparent loss of up to 20,000 graduate students. But the Office of Education can only guess, like everyone else, where they are.

Court Drops Bomb On Marijuana Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out today conviction of Timothy F. Leary, noted drug experimenter, on a finding that compliance with federal marijuana laws would violate his protection against self-incrimination.

The ruling, given by Justice John Marshall Harlan, seriously damaged—perhaps fatally—the marijuana laws.

The court reasoned that compliance with their provisions would expose Leary and others in the same situation to prosecution under state marijuana laws.

The decision follows the same reasoning the court used last year to riddle federal laws requiring gamblers to buy tax stamps to register with the government.

The resignation of Abe Fortas last week from the high court had no effect on this important 8-0 ruling.

Leary was convicted in 1966 of bringing about half an ounce of marijuana into the United States from Mexico. He was sentenced to from 5 to 30 years in prison.

His appeal attacked three federal laws that, while they did not make use of marijuana a federal crime, make supervision possible through a system of import controls and taxation.

The three laws make it a crime to (1) transport illegally imported marijuana knowing that the marijuana had been imported illegally, (2) transport marijuana without having paid a transfer tax and (3) acquire marijuana without having paid the transfer tax.

Harlan, speaking for the court, said once Leary acquired marijuana "He was confronted with a statute which on its face permitted him to acquire the drug legally, provided he paid the $100-per-ounce transfer tax and gave incriminating information, and simultaneously with a system of regulations which, according to the government, prohibited him from acquiring marijuana under any conditions."

Harlan said Leary "had ample reason to fear" that if he identified himself to the government as one who had obtained unregistered marijuana the information could be given to local enforcement officials.

This, Harlan added, "would surely prove a significant link in a chain of evidence tending to establish his guilt under the state marijuana laws..."

Stock Market Sagged Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market sagged lower in moderate trading early this afternoon, with profit taking reported spreading and some investors cautious and on the sidelines.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 6.53, or 0.67 per cent, at 960.77.

Losses led gains by about 200 issues. Brokers said the market was overextended "and obviously in need of a consolidation pause to digest the gains it has run up in recent weeks," pointing out that the Dow industrial had gained more than 40 points in the past three weeks.

They said investors who had scored gains during the market's recent advances were taking profits again as they had in previous sessions.

"Some investors also have grown cautious and taken to the sidelines to await developments," an analyst said. "And there's the absence of any new news out of the Vietnam situation to stimulate the market."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.5 at 342.0, with industrials off 2.7, rails off .8, and utilities off .1.

Conglomerates generally were lower, with National General off 2.

Steels were off fractions. Motors also were slightly lower, although American Motors gained 1/4 to 1 1/4. Among aircrafts, United Aircraft was off 1/4.

Tension Eases In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Tension eased here today after five days of arson, murder and looting. People crowded streets to purchase essential food during relaxed curfew hours.

There were reports looting was increasing in downtown homes evacuated by 5,000 people at the height of the trouble. Some reports said Malay troops were taking part in looting.

Authorities said 132 persons had been killed in the capital and four persons in other parts of the country, but unofficial medical sources said at least 300 bodies had been counted in morgues and hospitals.

At least 342 persons have been injured and 2,768 arrested, including many for violating the curfew.

Some 140 buildings were burned and 109 vehicles damaged. Two fires were visible from downtown today.

Throughout the capital vigilante groups were organizing to guard shops and homes.

The new emergency government consisting of the National Operations Council headed by Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak met at the downtown Parliament House.

Razak announced the arrest of 60 "hard core Communists" Saturday night and the arrest Friday of "90 hard core Communists and their supporters in hiding."

"The Communists have always wanted to see racial clashes in this country," Razak said, "because they hope to ride on communal disorder and capture power."

Mother Granted Sea Burial Wish

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mother of a Navy man killed in a plane crash in the Pacific during World War II has been granted her request to be buried at sea near him.

The Navy said today the body of Mrs. Alexander Hilton of Aurora, Ill., was put overboard Saturday 325 miles northwest of Guam, at almost the exact location where a Navy patrol plane carrying her son and other crewmen crashed June 22, 1944.

The body of her son, Machinist's Mate 3. C. Alexander Hilton Jr., was never recovered.

Mrs. Hilton, a former Army nurse, requested burial at the spot.

Morley-Murphy Site Proposed For City Hall

An exchange of properties between the City of Escanaba and the Morley-Murphy Co., wholesalers located in the 400 block of Ludington St., so that a city hall might be located there, is proposed by the Planning Commission.

Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building recently, the Commission discussed the proposed exchange of properties to determine its feasibility.

Several possible uses of the Morley-Murphy building (once the Delta Hardware Co. home) were discussed and the Commission also considered providing land and a building for Morley-Murphy's use in a more favorable location.

There was unanimous approval of a motion that the Commission "recommend the City Council look into the possibilities of an exchange of properties with Morley-Murphy with the intent that the present building be used as a potential city hall site."

In other business the Commission discussed a letter from the Memory Lane Development Corp. requesting that the city offer for sale three 40's of land south of U.S. 2-41.

John Dulek Jr., city engineer also told the Commission that another developer is inquiring whether the 40 acres of land immediately adjacent to the highway might be made available for a Holiday Inn site.

The properties were received by the city from the state and would have to be deeded back to the state for public sale under the present laws. There is also a problem for developers of providing sewer service to the area.

The Commission is suggesting that City Manager George Harvey continue efforts for the city to get clear title to the properties; but that sale be withheld until proper sanitary sewer facilities are installed.

A request of Art DeGrand for rezoning an area south of DeGrand's property on Lake Shore Drive, for light manufacturing, was denied.

The Commission referred to the Recreation Board the request of Elmer's Grocery to purchase parking area from the city in the Civic Center site.

The former Club 314 recreation building site on S. 14th St. should be offered for sale "for the fair market value," the Commission is recommending to the Council.

The Commission welcomed George Miller to the Commission and elected officers: Henry Wylie, chairman; Rodger Murray, chairman pro-tem; and Leo Alperovitz, secretary. Paul Snyder, who is retiring from the Commission, received comments of appreciation for his services.

Accidents Claim 17 On Weekend

By The Associated Press
A 30-year-old woman and her two sons were killed when their car hit a tree near Mount Clemens Sunday as the weekend traffic fatality toll in Michigan rose to 17.

Mrs. Joyce Ann Abbott of Armada, and sons, 8-year-old Michael and 10-year-old James, died when the car crashed after veering out of control while passing a vehicle.

In a crash Saturday, four persons were killed.

The Associated Press weekend traffic fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Other victims: Sam Stemo, 63, of Oak Park, when his car struck a building, then careened into a utility pole Sunday on Detroit's East Side.

Jay Nelson McNall, 44, of Three Rivers, who was a passenger in a car which authorities said was struck from behind and knocked into the path of a church bus Sunday at a U.S. 12 intersection near White Pigeon.

Joseph W. Leach Jr., 58, and his wife, Genevieve, 43, of Britton, and Hazel M. Cregar, 51, and John Wintuck, 53, both of Tecumseh, in a two-car crash Saturday night near Ottawa Lake in southeast Monroe County.

Scouters Get Beaver Awards

Three Upper Peninsula Scout leaders were presented the Silver Beaver Award by the Houghton Council at its annual meeting Sunday at Northern Michigan University, Marquette.

The Silver Beaver is the highest tribute a local council of the Boy Scouts of America may present to volunteer Scout leaders. Only three may be awarded each year. Council officers for 1969-70 were also elected at the meeting and James R. Neidhoefer of Milwaukee was the featured speaker.

Silver Beaver Awards were presented to Edmond J. Mitchell, Munising; Clifton F. Rogers, Houghton; and Richard C. Wightman of Iron River.

Earl A. McIntyre, Marquette, was elected as Council President to succeed Dr. Walter J. Norris. Vice presidents are Richard Felix, Sault Ste. Marie; John Bertoldi, Iron Mountain; and Dr. James Dehlin, Gladstone. Robert Gorsuch of Marquette was elected treasurer and Emerson Gage, Gladstone, as council commissioner.

New members elected to the Executive Board are Sterling Bartlowe, Houghton; James Bourche, Soo; Col. George Cap, Kincheloe AFB; Ned Johnson, Ishpeming; Dr. Alexander McKinnon, St. Ignace; J. Willis Owen, Marquette; Alfred Phillip, L'Anse and Gordon Rice of Negaunee.

Richard H. Showetter is scout executive for the Council, which is also served by Walter McCellum, Crystal Falls, and William Haas, Houghton, and Dave Smith, Escanaba district Scout executives. Leo Bureau, will become District Executive of the Pere Marquette District (Marquette and Alger counties) on June 9.

Governor OKs Gogebic Grant

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken today approved a federal economic opportunity grant of $159,713 to the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency for a senior opportunities and services program.

Milliken said the agency is one of 25 in the United States selected to conduct a special project for the elderly.

"Gogebic and Ontonagon counties have a 54 per cent higher average of elderly population than the nation figure for the aged," Milliken said.

"It is a rural area which is changing from a mining economy to a tourist economy, and the project is designed in part to help rural poor to participate in the restoration of prosperity in the area through tourism," he explained.

Milliken said about one-third of the money will be allocated to expand and improve a project started last summer when the elderly were employed as tourist guides and hosts to visitors passing through the area.

The governor said the project also will seek to develop other new employment opportunities plus an all-season recreation and service center to be controlled by the senior citizens themselves.

Police did not say whether hanging or burning caused Zotti's death.

Zotti was to have been married in two weeks. The police said he was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

Briefly Told

Edward Farrell, Delta County sheriff's deputy, is attending a three-week basic police course at Northern Michigan University.

The Delta County Sheriff's Dept. reported today that two aluminum boats have washed ashore on the Stonington Peninsula. Officers believe the boats drifted loose from their moorings and the owners may contact the sheriff's department for details.

Rinso Winner In Frog Jump

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — The jumping frogs of Calaveras County didn't set any records this year, but 64,000 people turned out to watch them leap and bound.

The winner of the International Grand Finals was a leg-spraddler named Rinso, entered by the perennially victorious training tandem of Leonard Hall and Bill Proctor, Lafayette, Calif.

In 1966, the all-Proctor frog set a world record of 19 feet, 3 1/2 inches, which still stands. Their entry also won last year.

Rinso's distance Sunday was 18 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

The frog event is part of the Calaveras County Fair and stems from a story written 104 years ago by Mark Twain.

MSU Ends Its Sliding-Scale Tuition-Plan

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's bold experiment with the nation's only sliding-scale tuition plan basing tuition on family income has ended, reportedly because of legislative pressure.

In a secret weekend meeting, the MSU Board of Trustees killed the plan which was adopted less than two years ago and which since has been considered by other universities.

MSU students will pay a flat-rate tuition next fall, just like other colleges in the country.

Trustee Don Stevens, Okemos Democrat who was author of the sliding scale plan, said he had no idea what effect the change will have on MSU's efforts to recruit disadvantaged students. Large numbers of minority group members had enrolled at MSU in the past two years partly because of the variable tuition.

Under the sliding scale, students paid $369 to $552 a year in tuition depending on their parents' income.

There had been reports that state legislators, irked by the plan, were talking of chopping as much as $500,000 out of MSU's budget if the sliding scale wasn't killed.

Cincinnati Voters Decide On Schools

CINCINNATI (AP) — Voters faced by a partial school shutdown decide today whether to hike their taxes to support the educational system.

The Hamilton County Board of Elections estimated 110,000 or 63 per cent of the city's registered voters—would cast ballots on a proposed school levy increase of 5.2 mills.

If the levy fails, school officials say they will close classrooms to the system's 85,000 students and 3,200 teachers for five days in June and 14 days in November.

The system already has an $8 million deficit and school officials say it will reach $12 million by 1970 if the levy fails. The shutdown would trim the $53,813,000 budget by $3.8 million.

Judith Malinowski, David M. Gereau Wed

A Nuptial Eucharistic celebration Saturday, April 26 at St. Anne's Church united in marriage Judith Joanne Malinowski and David M. Gereau. The Rev. W. Marcotte officiated at the 11 a.m. nuptials assisted by Brother Christopher, a friend of the bride's family.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lucian S. Malinowski, 1816 Grand Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gereau, Garden City, Mich., formerly of Kipling.

Tail gold vases filled with shell pink snapdragons adorned the main altar and clusters of white baby mums and Spanish fern with white bows marked the church pews.

Cage Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length cage gown of Venice lace over peau de soie fashioned with a scalloped cowl neckline and long tapered sleeves that buttoned at the wrists.

A white stephanotis flower headdress held her cathedral length silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of ivory bridal roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Maid of honor for her sister was Pamela M. Malinowski and bridesmaids were Carol Gereau, Garden City, sister of the bridegroom, Betty Bartosz and Judy Johnson of Green Bay.

Pink Chiffon
They were attired in floor length cage style gowns of shell pink silk chiffon and their Dior puff headpieces held floor length veils of shell pink illusion. They carried bouquets of shaded pink carnations, baby's breath and ferns.

Guy Gereau of Cheboygan, Mich., served as bestman for his brother and groomsmen were Wally Gereau of Milwaukee, Frank Gereau of Kipling, brothers of the bridegroom and Marv Carlson of Kipling. Performing ushering duties

Schaffer Driver Injured In Stock Racing Opener

A 22-year-old Schaffer stock car driver, Roger Richer, is listed in serious condition this morning, according to a report from St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay, after a tragic rollover in the opening race of the season in Escanaba Saturday night.

As a crowd of 2,000 chilled fans looked on, Richer, taking a time trial run, rolled over on the first turn. His car flipped over three times, and on the second roll, Richer had his seat belt break loose and he was thrown out of the side window of his car, landing 25 feet away.

Richer was immediately taken to St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba, and later transferred to St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay that same evening. Hospital officials reported that Richer is suffering from multiple head, back and hand injuries and that he had shown some improvement this morning.

With the crowd in a stunned mood for the remainder of the evening, action continued at a rapid pace. Bob Iverson of Hyde drove to a clean sweep in the modified action. He started the evening by winning the time trials and in the second heat, he took the lead from John O'Reilly of Canada on the seventh lap and led the rest of the way.

In the 20-lap feature, Ed Provo of Escanaba moved out to an early lead, but Iverson caught him on the seventh lap and ran away from the rest of the cars for the victory.

The first modified heat proved to be one of the most exciting races of the evening as Provo hooked up with Ken Iverson of Escanaba. Provo, who bought Jerry Richer's number one car from last year, took the lead on the first lap and stayed just in front of Iverson throughout the 12-lap race.

In sportsman action, Carl Chantry of Marinette had an easy time in winning the first heat. In the second heat, Joe Haterkorn of Norway shot into the lead on the sixth lap after a spinout and outdueled Duke Gardiner of Escanaba for the rest of the way.

In the third heat, John Kroil of Wells, driving for the first time, picked up the checkered flag after losing the lead for a half a lap to Dick Peterson of Rapid River. When Peterson spun out, Kroil again shot into the lead and beat Herb Iverson of Hyde to the finish line.

Ed Destrampe of Escanaba grabbed an early lead in the semi-feature on the first lap and ran away from everyone for one of the easiest victories of the night.

In the 20-lap feature, Peterson, Iverson, Kroil and Willie Gasbarro of Norway battled in the early laps for the lead, and after it changed hands several times, Peterson took over for good on the sixth lap and pulled away from the field. Time trial honors for the evening went to Iverson with a time of 21.79.

Racing action will open in Norway Wednesday night at the Dickinson County Fairgrounds and the drivers will return to action Saturday night in Escanaba.

getting within six feet and breaking out of a four-way tie for the lead with another lap.

An eight iron put him eight feet from the cup on 12 and he holed it, but the tournament was decided on No. 16.

South African Gary Player had rammed in birdie putts of 20 and 30 feet on Nos. 13 and 14 and moved into a share of the top spot. Dickinson was first through 16, and coaxed in a 12-foot putt he said "looked like three miles."

Moments later Player bogeyed the hole from a trap. Dickinson had a two-stroke lead and it was all over. Player birdied the last hole for a 69 and second place at 279. Don January had a final round 70 for third at 280, while Jack Nicklaus, with a last round 71, and New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles, with a 68, tied for fourth at 282.

Arnold Palmer rallied from a third round 80 with a 69 for 290, while defending champion Billy Casper took a 76 for 297. The third round leaders, Billy Maxwell and Australian Bruce Crampton, also had their trouble. Crampton had a 75 for 283 and Maxwell a 78 for 286.

Dickinson Wins Colonial Event

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Because a friend—he wasn't identified—renewed on a business deal, Gardner Dickinson finally achieved his lifelong goal in golf, a victory in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

"I was playing real bad early this year," the gaunt, 41-year-old veteran recalled Sunday after charging in with a 66 for his first victory in 15 tries in this prestigious event.

"And I have this friend who had offered me a job in a business where I could make a lot of money. He told me that when I was ready to quit the tour to let him know."

"So I told him I was ready," Dickinson said, then paused.

"Well, he wasn't ready. If he had been, I wouldn't be here today. I guess I've got him to thank for this $25,000."

The little guy, he weighs only 131, used a refund putting touch, some advice from Ben Hogan and steel-wire nerves to capture the event.

"There are other tournaments where you can make more money," he said. "Bigger prizes than $25,000. And winning the Masters, the Open, the PGA, those all can make you money."

"But I always wanted to win this tournament. Maybe it's because this course has eaten me up. But it was Dickinson who dominated the course in the final round, gunning his irons to the small greens on the 7,175 yard, par 70 Colonial Country Club course with rifle accuracy and finishing at 278, two under par.

He had five birdies, with only one putt longer than 15 feet. That was a 25-footer on No. 5, when he got back even with par after a bogey on No. 2, where he buried a ball in a trap.

He put a five iron on the 10th hinges on whether van Breda Kolf can get his release.

"I am still under contract and I can't make any comment," Van Breda Kolf said Sunday when he was contacted in Los Angeles. He said he has not spoken with Lakers owner Jack Kent Cooker and "we have no formal meeting set."

Van Breda Kolf has one year remaining on a three-year contract with the Lakers, which he coached to the finals of the NBA playoffs in each of his two seasons.

The Free Press said he became convinced he never could reach a "meeting of the minds" with Lakers star center Wilt Chamberlain.

There have been numerous published reports of bitter words between the two during the season and after the final playoff game, which Los Angeles lost to Boston. However, Chamberlain recently denied he had serious differences with van Breda Kolf.

Asked if he would be back with the Lakers next season, van Breda Kolf said Sunday "As far as I, yes, I guess so."

Ed Coll, general manager of the Detroit Pistons, said "There is nothing final on it yet. We had hoped to have something done sooner than this, but we expect it to be resolved by the middle of the week."

Cooker said he has not met with the coach, but he would probably see him today or Tuesday "because his office is right down the hall from mine."

Paul Seymour, who took over the Detroit coaching duties last December, has said he wants to step down so he can devote more time to his family and his business enterprises in Syracuse, N.Y. One newspaper said Seymour had been given the authority to pick his successor.

Seymour is expected to remain with the Pistons in a less time-consuming capacity, probably as coordinator of personnel.

The Pistons had a 32-50 record last season, in which they failed to make the playoffs for the fifth time in six seasons.

Badgers Notch Track Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Larry Highbaugh, who likes to play a little football for Indiana, turned in the outstanding performance in the Big Ten track and field championships over the weekend but Wisconsin, as expected, captured the team title.

The Badgers scored a record 80 points, bettering the mark of 74 set by Illinois in 1924, and completed the first indoor-outdoor track sweep in the school's history.

Wisconsin won nine individual firsts in Saturday's 16-event closing program with Ray Arrington winning the mile and the half mile within 40 minutes.

But Highbaugh, who plays safety and flanker for the Hoosier football team, captured three individual events and anchored Indiana to victory in the 440-yard relay for a total of 17 points. Highbaugh fell short of the record of 20 points posted by Ohio State's Jesse Owens in 1935 and 1936 with victories in four events.

Highbaugh also won the 100 and 200 dashes Saturday after winning the long jump Friday.

High's performance helped Indiana finish second with 64 points followed by Michigan with 32, Michigan State 27, Ohio State 20, Illinois 18, Minnesota 17, Iowa 16, Purdue 6 and Northwestern 2.

Bark River Wins Junior High Meet

BARK RIVER — The Bark River-Harris Junior High School track team defeated Stephenson Junior High 60-40 in a dual meet held Friday afternoon.

Bark River's Joe Kutha was a triple winner in the meet, scoring victories in the 75-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the long jump. Mitchell Lord of Stephenson and David VanEnkevort of Bark River tied for first in the pole vault with a jump of 9 feet 3 inches.

Workers Needed On Softball Field

ESCANABA Softball Association president Bill McGovern reminds all players that this will be the final week to prepare Memorial Field for the softball opener on May 25.

McGovern said that there still is a lot of work to be done on the field and if the work isn't completed by Thursday, the opener will be delayed indefinitely.

McGovern also reminds the team captains that the official ball to be used this season is the "Hardwood 100 Cn."

The workweek schedule for the week follows with all times at 6:30. Players are asked to bring rakes and shovels.

Horton Expected To Return Soon

DETROIT (AP) — The Tigers are off today, but when they leave for Chicago for a series with the White Sox, left fielder Willie Horton is expected to be with them.

Horton missed the rain-shortened weekend series with the Minnesota Twins when he failed to make the team charter plane Friday. Thursday night, he left the playing field after being heavily booed in the sixth inning, dressed and went home.

Horton has been in a hitting slump recently and although he has always been one of the most popular Tigers with the fans, he has started to attract boo-birds to left field.

He was suspended indefinitely by General Manager Jim Campbell.

Horton vigorously denied reports that he wanted to be traded and said he would rejoin the team after it returned home from the Minnesota trip.

He said his missing the trip was due to personal problems not connected with the booing incidents.

"I never asked to be traded," he said. "It's not true. I haven't said that to anybody."

Horton's suspension has cost him an estimated $340 a day, based on his $60,000 annual salary. Neither Manager Mayo Smith nor Campbell has said whether he will be assessed additional fines for his absence, but such fines are customary in professional sports.

Most of Horton's teammates greeted both his absence and the news of his return calmly.

Pitcher Denny McLain said, "It's Willie's personal deal. I don't want to talk about it."

And right fielder Al Kaline said only that he hopes "a couple days off will probably do Willie some good."

Rockets, Norway Win Small School Crowns

Gladstone, Norway and Rapid River took top honors in their respective classes Saturday afternoon at the U.P. Regional Track Meet held at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

The Braves topped the Class A-B field with 56 points compared with 46 for the runner-up Escanaba Eskymos, 37 for the Holy Name Crusaders and 22 for the defending U.P. champion Menominee Maroons.

Norway waged a close battle with the Stephenson Eagles all afternoon but finally managed to come out on top in Class C with 68 1/2 points. Stephenson finished the day with 58 1/2 points and Crystal Falls was a distant third with 21 points.

Rapid River simply ran away from the field in Class D competition with 81 points, followed by Big Bay de Noc with 42, Powers-Spalding 17, Perkins 16, Carney-Nadeau 5 and Felch 1.

Allen Berg

Top Performer

Top performer in Saturday's meet, without a doubt, was the Escanaba Eskymos versatile Allen Berg, who finished first in four events and scored 20 of the Eskymos' 46 points. Berg took top honors in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet 11 inches, the high jump with a 5 foot 9 1/2 inch jump, the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of :15.55 and the 180-yard low hurdles with a :20.9 clocking.

Berg has been the top performer for Escanaba all season, as he has consistently captured first places in the same four events in meets this spring. Berg has only been beaten twice all year, both defeats coming in the low hurdles by Joe Lasnoski of Holy Name. Ironically enough, Lasnoski finished second to Berg in Saturday's low hurdle event with a :21.3 time.

The only other double winner in the Class A-B division was Rick Lorenson of Gladstone in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. These two races were the ones that the many fans attending the meet had come to see, for it had been built up to be a battle between Lorenson, Jim Dubord and Tom Ness of Holy Name, and Tom Carlson and John Breitenbach of Escanaba.

Other Class C champions were Dave Vielmetti of Norway, shot put; Harold Wiberg of Stephenson, pole vault; Robin Tebo of Stephenson, two-mile run; Bob Holmes of Crystal Falls, mile run; Bob Williams of Norway, high hurdles; Jim Gironimi of Norway, 880-yard run; Barry Hafeman of Stephenson, 440-yard dash and James Bonetti of Norway, 100-yard dash. Norway and Stephenson won the 880 and mile relays respectively.

Morin, Mileski Tops

Dale Morin of Rapid River and Bob Mileski of Powers-Spalding were the only double winners among Class D participants. Morin continued to reign on top in both the low and high hurdles. Mileski upended the highly regarded Dan Safford of Rapid River in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. In addition to their firsts, Morin was second in the high jump and Mileski finished second in shot put.

Also winning Class D championships were Harold Pettay of Rapid River, shot put; Bill Hartman of Big Bay de Noc, pole vault; Dan Safford of Rapid River in the long jump; Ken Simonsen of Perkins in the high jump; Mike Dziedzic of Carney-Nadeau, two mile run; Dale Pasi of Rapid River, mile run; Mike Beek of Rapid River, 80-yard run; and Bob Gibbons of Rapid River and Charles Thelander of Big Bay de Noc, 440-yard dash. Rapid River won both relay events.

All four places qualified for the U.P. Finals to be held at Marquette next Saturday except in the relays where only the first two places qualified.

Lorenson successfully fought off challenges in both events and nipped Ness by one-tenth a second in the 100 and Dubord by a shade more than two-tenths of a second in the 220.

In addition to Berg and Lorenson, other champions in the Class A-B division were Dan Young of Holy Name, shot put; Tom Carlson of Escanaba, pole vault; Gary Ellison of Gladstone, two-mile run; Ralph Dollhopf of Gladstone, mile run; Cliff Young of Gladstone, 880-yard run and Mike Skorupski of Gladstone and Dale Leitzke of Menominee, 440-yard dash. Majestic Prince Wins Preakness; Out Of Belmont

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Belmont Stakes still is to be run, but when the final jewel is added to racing's Triple Crown on June 7 it will not sparkle as brightly as was expected—Majestic Prince will not be there.

Trainer Johnny Longden says the Prince, with the shot at becoming a Triple Crown king, will not run in the Belmont.

Owner Frank McMahon also says so—with less conviction. For a time Saturday it appeared that once again no one would get a shot at the Triple Crown. A foul was claimed against McMahon's unbeaten colt after he finished first in the $182,000 Preakness, but the stewards disallowed it after deliberating for 26 tension-building minutes.

"Boys, I'm taking him home," was the bombshell Longden dropped on newsmen when they appeared at his barn on the Pimlico backstretch Sunday morning to rehash Majestic Prince's head victory over Arts and Letters, who he beat by a neck in the Kentucky Derby.

Mahon, contacted before he left Baltimore, at first said he had reached no decision but later he told The Associated Press by telephone from his home in Florida:

"I am pretty well convinced we are not going to run him. We are awfully close to not going."

He is not sick; his condition is fine. He's just lost weight because of the campaign (seven wins this year added to two in 1968).

Longden also said the power-running chestnut's condition had nothing to do with his wanting to ship to his farm at Riverside, Calif., and return Majestic Prince to the races in late summer or fall. Then he said:

"I've checked back and I can't find any horse that had a tough race in the Derby or Preakness that came out of the Belmont and amounted to a damn. I mean they never run back to their top form."

"Count Fleet was one of them. He was sound when he went into the Belmont. He never raced again after the Belmont."

Count Fleet, who won the Triple Crown in 1935, was ridden by Johnny Longden.

No previous winner of the Derby and Preakness has ever withstood voluntarily from the Belmont, in which just eight colts have clinched the Triple Crown—the last one Citation in 1948.

A record Preakness crowd of 43,259 thrilled to the stretch duel between Majestic Prince and Arts and Letters, almost a carbon copy of their Derby battle, then waited out the foul claims.

Braulio Baeza, who rode the runner-up from Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, contended they lost ground on the first turn when they were bothered by Bill Hartack and Majestic Prince. But it was disallowed.

Once the field of 3-year-olds turned for home, it became a two-horse race, as Claiborne Farm's Jay Ray finished four lengths back of Arts and Letters and the Estate of Steven B. Wilson's Top Knight was another four lengths back.

Following them to the end of the 1 3/16 miles, timed in 1:55 3/5, were Pelican Stable's Al Hat-tab, Michael G. Phipps' Green-grass Greene, Elmendorf's Captain Action and Glenn M. Banker's Glad's Flame.

The $129,500 first money boosted the career earnings of Majestic Prince, purchased for $250,000 as a yearling, to $389,200.

Bases Loaded Walk Stops Cubs In 8th Inning, 6-5

By The Associated Press

Relief was just a swallow away for the Chicago Cubs—but Phil Regan's aspirin tablets went down the wrong pipe.

Regan walked pinch hitter Julio Gotay with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth inning Sunday, handing the Houston Astros a 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

The Chicago bullpen ace, beaten for the first time in six decisions, almost pitched out of a bases-loaded, none-out bind before forcing home the winning run with his third walk in the inning.

Regan's surprising control lapse was the lowpoint of a frustrating afternoon for National League relief pitchers, who failed in three other rescue operations.

Blow Ninth

Pittsburgh's Pedro Ramos and Bob Moose blew a ninth inning lead at Los Angeles, where Len Gabrielson's pinch homer and Wes Parker's two-out bases-loaded single gave the Dodgers a 6-5 nod.

San Francisco's Bob Bolin retired two Philadelphia batters in the ninth, then yielded a single by Dave Watkins and a run-scoring double by Larry Hise that beat the Giants 9-8.

Atlanta bombed Montreal 8-3 in a rain-shortened game, scoring four wrapup runs in the seventh when Felix Millan, Hank Aaron and Cleo Boyer rocked veteran reliever Eiroy Face with homers.

Protect Victory

St. Louis' Ron Willis and Gary Waslewski proved the exceptions, working out of late inning trouble to protect Dave Giusti's 6-5 victory over San Diego.

Rain washed out the New York Mets-Cincinnati game—and four perfect innings pitched by Reds' left-hander Jim Merritt.

Ted Abernathy, Reagan's chief crone in the Cubs' bullpen, took a 5-3 lead into the seventh inning at Houston, but errors by third baseman Ron Santo and right fielder Al Spangler helped the Astros push over one run.

Error Hurts

Regan came to the rescue with none out and runners on second and third, got two quick outs and then was victimized by Santo's second error, which allowed the tying run to score.

In the eighth, he walked Curt Blefary, was tagged for a single by Denis Menke and walked Doug Rader, jamming the bases with nobody out. He retired Jesus Alou on a pop up and got Johnny Edwards to tap into a force at the plate, but then lost Gotay, who was batting for pitcher Jim Ray.

Despite the loss, the first place Cubs remained six games ahead of the sinking Pirates in the NL's East Division race.

Erase Deficit

The Pirates erased a 4-2 deficit when Willie Stargell's double launched a two-run eighth inning rally, then shot in front 5-4 on Stargell's run-scoring double in the top of the ninth.

Ramos, who had come on in the seventh and set down six batters in succession, got another to start the ninth. But Gabrielson poled his first homer of the season and when Willie Crawford followed with a double, Moose was called in from the bullpen.

He got Ted Sizemore to ground out as Crawford moved to third, and walked Willie Davis intentionally. Davis took second without a throw and Andy Kosco drew another walk to fill the bases. Parker then delivered the winning run with a single to right, extending the Pirates' losing streak to five games.

Marichal Bombed

Hise's fourth hit in five trips pinned the loss on Bolin and the Giants after the Phillies raked Juan Marichal for 12 hits and seven runs in the 6 1/3 innings he worked. Richie Allen, John Callison and Mike Ryan all homered off Marichal, Bob Burda socked a three-run pinch homer for the Giants.

Face came in to pitch at the start of the seventh with the Expos trailing 4-3 and was greeted by Millan's fourth homer. One out later, Hank Aaron bashed his eighth homer—and the 518th of his career. Then, with two out, Tommie Aaron doubled and Boyer slugged his fifth homer, putting the game out of reach.

It was called with the Braves batting in the eighth after a 47-minute rain delay.

Carty Lost

Ron Reed, 5-1, went the distance for the Braves, who lost outfielder Rico Carty, with a dislocated right shoulder, and first baseman Tito Francona, with a dislocated right thumb.

Willis choked off a three-run San Diego rally in the eighth inning and Waslewski came on to get the last out in the ninth, stranding two base-runners and saving Giusti's third victory in seven decisions.

Tigers Down Twins; Lolich Plans On 20

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Lolich, who pitched Detroit to three victories during the 1968 World Series, has served notice he plans to clobber at least 20 opponents this season.

"I've never won 20 games in a season, and this is one goal I'd like to achieve this year," Lolich asserted Sunday after racking up his fifth victory against only one loss as the Tigers beat Minnesota 8-2.

Lolich, whose best season was in 1964 when he won 18 and lost nine, admits, "I still don't have real control of my curve and fast ball and I didn't have it Sunday."

"But they only measure success by your record," he added. "In three of the games I won, the Tigers scored a lot of runs for me. The others were close."

The 6-foot, 195-pound southpaw had a 17-9 record last season.

Lolich blamed his "slow, deliberate windup" along with being "a little careless" for home-run steals by Rod Carew and Cesar Tovar in the third inning. The steals tied the game at 2-2.

Tovar swiped third in the innings and Carew stole second and third before sneaking home for the fourth time this season.

But Lolich cut the Twins off from any hits after the third inning and allowed only four for the game.

The game broke open in the sixth inning when Mickey Stanley's pop fly dropped safely in right field as Rod Carew and

Mickey Lolich

Tony Oliva collided.

Stanley's double triggered a four-run Tigers rally.

Carew and Oliva lay stunned in the field while Bill Freehan and Tommy Matchick, each of whom had singled, raced for home on Stanley's pop fly.

Oliva dislocated the index finger on his right hand and was taken out of the contest. Carew was down for about three minutes but stayed in the game.

Stanley scored on a single by Dick McAuliffe. Then, after two walks, McAuliffe came home on reliever Joe Grzenda's balk.

McAuliffe scored four runs during the game, including Detroit's second run when he tripled in the third inning and scampered home on Al Kaline's double.

Detroit's opening run came in the first on singles by Stanley and Kaline and a forceout by Norm Cash.

Jim Northrup scored on a double and Lolich's single in the seventh. Then Northrup drove in McAuliffe, who had doubled, with a single in the eighth.

Earl Wilson is expected to face Tommy John in the opening tilt with the White Sox.

Pepitone Leads Yankees To Doubleheader Sweep

By The Associated Press

This is the kind of slump Joe Pepitone has been in.

The New York first baseman blasted game-winning home runs in both ends of the Yankees' 3-1, 1-0 doubleheader sweep over California Sunday. He had four hits in the twinbill and six in his last eight swings over the weekend.

The spree raised his batting average to all of .254.

The shrunken average is the result of a 2-for-39 slump which had saddled Pepitone until the Angels pulled him out of it.

"During my slump I wasn't even hitting the fast ball down the middle," said Pepitone, "and that's my pitch. I had two cheapie singles and I didn't even hit the ball hard once."

Against the Angels, he hit it hard twice.

His three-run shot in the seventh inning of the opener gave Mel Stottlemyre his sixth victory of the year. In the nightcap, Pepi broke up a scoreless game with his 11th homer on reliever Hoyt Wilhelm's first pitch in the bottom of the ninth.

In other American League games Sunday, Baltimore shut out Kansas City 5-0, Detroit pounded Minnesota 8-2, Seattle rapped Boston 9-6 and Washington won a pair from Chicago, both 3-2, Oakland at Cleveland was rained out.

Despite his surge, Pepitone still isn't sure he's out of the doldrums for good.

"I still don't feel comfortable. I can't find the right stance," he said. "I don't have my timing. I'm overstriding and out in front of the pitch."

But with all those woes, Pepi still admitted: "This was the best day in my career. That really feels good."

Pepitone's first game jolt turned around a 1-0 California lead and came after Bobby Murcer and Jerry Kenney had singled. The nightcap was scoreless until Pepitone unloaded again.

Mike Cuellar pitched a two-hitter and drove in a run with a seventh inning triple as Baltimore blanked Kansas City. Boog Powell hammered a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Baltimore had managed just one hit in six innings against rookie Dick Drago but broke out of the scoreless tie with three in the seventh—two on Dave Johnson's single and outfielder Lou Piniella's error and the third on Cuellar's triple.

Larry Haney, Ray Oyler and pitcher Mike Marshall all slammed home runs and Seattle needed them when a late Boston rally keyed by Carl Yastrzemski's grand slam almost caught the Pilots in the ninth.

Diego Segui relieved Marshall following Yaz' shot and allowed a pair of hits, bringing Boston's tying run to the plate before getting the last out.

Mike Epstein singled home Washington's winning run in the 10th inning of the 3-2 first game and then the Senators completed the sweep by the same score in the nightcap.

Dennis Higgins picked up his eighth and ninth saves of the season by finishing both games. Washington had dropped nine of 10 games on its Western swing before Sunday's sweep.

When is the best time to start your baby's college education?

Would you believe...now?

Prudential understands that it may seem too soon to start thinking about college expenses for a member of the Class of 1990. But, when you figure how much it'll cost, it may not be any too soon at all.

Of course, college costs vary. Some are $3,000, $4,000, $5,000 even up to $10,000. It could even be more when he's ready to go.

In any case the Prudential can guarantee the amount you've planned on if your child were to face college without you. And something else, too. As you pay the premiums, it builds a cash reserve you can draw on when the bills come. But remember. The sooner you start a Prudential college insurance and savings plan, the more you'll have in reserve by then.

Your Prudential man can show you how an early start can help take the financial jolt out of education. When it comes to tailoring Prudential's college insurance and savings plan to your income, Prudential understands.

Welfare Costs Up In March

Total welfare payments during March in Schoolcraft County were $31,366.65, an increase of $4,013.36 over February 1969, according to a report released by David M. Nordin, director of the Department of Social Services.

March payments to 108 Old Age Assistance recipients totaled $6,756. During February 107 persons received total payments of $6,384.

An increase of $2,649 over February payments of $9,573 is recorded in aid to 63 qualifying families who received Aid to Dependent Children benefits totaling $12,222. During February 55 families received assistance.

Aid to the Blind payments for March totaled $448 with four individuals receiving help. In February four individuals divided a total payment of $477.

Aid to the Disabled payments, with 61 qualified recipients, during March totaled $6,384 compared with $6,836 which 53 persons received in February.

Under the Direct Relief (county) program, a total of 54 families and individuals received $5,556.65 in March. During February, 61 cases shared benefits of $4,093.29.

Pesticide Count High In 12 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said today at least a dozen states have reported pesticide residues in fish above the government's recommended safe levels.

High concentrations of DDT, substantially above the five parts per million set by the Food and Drug Administration, he said, have been found in fish in almost every region of the nation, from Maine to California and Montana to Louisiana.

His comments were in a statement for a Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating the effect of pesticides on sport and commercial fishing.

A member of the subcommittee, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said in a statement that Pennsylvania state agencies for years have substituted other chemical pesticides for lethal DDT.

Appropriate Time

Scott said Pennsylvania has had its share of pesticide fish-kills and some lake fish were found to have 10 times more DDT than acceptable tolerance levels set by the FDA, Food and Drug Administration.

"Chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides are now universal in their occurrence, not only in the soils and water but more seriously in the flesh of fish, animals and man," Scott said.

"Now seems to be an appropriate time to act to prevent further buildup of DDT... levels in our fish and wildlife," he added.

Nelson said preliminary results of a survey conducted by his office indicate that most states have inadequate pesticide monitoring programs and lack virtually any significant information on pesticide use in their states.

Ticket Driver After Accident

David A. Larson, 20, Rte. 3, Rapid River, was ticketed by Michigan State Police for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, after an accident Friday at 12:01 a.m. on county road 495, near Nahma in Delta County.

Larson told troopers he swerved to avoid hitting a deer, skidded in loose gravel, lost control of his auto and rolled over. No personal injuries were reported.

Jay I. Krummich, 35, Rte. 1, Manistique, reported hitting a deer at 7:30 p.m. Friday on U.S. 2, Garden Township. No tickets were issued and no injuries reported. Krummich's vehicle sustained slight damage.

Patronage Jobs Come Under Fire

LANSING (AP) — A move has been launched in the House to strip the attorney general and secretary of state of patronage jobs.

Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, has introduced a resolution to create a committee to investigate non-Civil Service jobs, notably public administrators and managers of license plate fee branches.

Civil Service
"There have been some complaints that court administrators take out excessive amounts from the estates," said one source, who asked not to be named. "And fee branch managers have to kick so much back to the party or they get fired."

League Solicits Gifts Of Books For Annual Sale

The Escanaba League of Women Voters will conduct its annual used book sale in July to coincide with sidewalk days in Escanaba.

All types of books are needed. In the past up-to-date textbooks, children's books, religious books, cookbooks, and paperback books are especially in demand. Musical records are also acceptable.

Donations of books or records may be made by calling Mrs. Steven Froum, 786-1848.

Resume Search For Boy, 3

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Macomb County sheriff's deputies today continued the search for a three-year-old boy missing since last Thursday.

Deputy T. John Ruggero said that searchers scoured the rural area near the home of little Bobby Albrecht and planned to continue diving operations in some ponds today.

Ruggero was asked whether authorities believe the Albrecht boy may have been abducted. He replied, "I have no idea who started that rumor or where it came from."

The boy's father, Robert Albrecht of Elkhardt, Ind., was in the Mount Clemens area helping in the search over the weekend.

The lad's mother is Linda Lumpkin, who has remarried since being divorced from Albrecht.

Detroit Police Seek Bandits

DETROIT (AP) — Police in Detroit continued their search Sunday for three men sought in a bank robbery. One holdup man, Gary Norwood, 24, was killed during the robbery of a branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co.

Two of the dead man's companions escaped and police are seeking them and the driver of the getaway car. They escaped with an unknown amount of money.

A fifth man, Franklin Carpenter, 26, was captured by police when he was trapped in the bank.

Fund For Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit antipoverty agency is seeking $30 million in federal funds to find jobs for 125,000 poor people who could not find work otherwise.

The project has received preliminary approval from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare regional office in Chicago.

Both Secretary of State James Hare and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley reportedly seek to continue the practices. In fact, one assistant attorney general is reported to have called Kildee and asked, "What in the hell are you trying to do?"

A measure of Kildee's determination is the fact that he introduced a bill earlier this session to place public administrators under Civil Service.

The bill died in committee. He then introduced a resolution calling for a special committee to investigate "those state employment positions which are neither elected nor under Civil Service regulation and which are the result of political patronage."

The committee, which would have subpoena power to call witnesses and review records, would report its findings to the 1970 session of the Legislature.

It is Kildee's view that many persons holding patronage jobs do not render "a desired quality of service" and presumably the Legislature would take corrective action after hearing reports of alleged complaints.

Presently, there are 215 license plate fee branches across the state where each manager receives 30 cents for each plate sold. Out of this money, the secretary's office said, the manager must pay his employees and rent of a building.

However, the secretary wields a substantial club and fee branch managers reportedly have to contribute to the party or lose their job.

One representative who asked not to be named said a recent example of this was the case of George Gundy, who managed a fee branch in Genesee County.

Hare charged Gundy was not contributing enough to the party and recommended to the Genesee County Democratic Committee that his name not be resubmitted, the source said.

The committee, however, resubmitted Gundy's name. But it was not accepted by Hare, the source added, "and Gundy was fired forthwith."

Handle Estates
Public administrators are appointed by Irving Feldman, assistant in charge of public administration in the attorney general's office.

Feldman said he appoints public administrators on the advice of the attorney general and governor.

One source explained that Atty. Gen. Kelley and former Gov. George Romney reached an "agreement" some time ago and that several Republicans have been named as public administrators.

There are about 100 public administrators in Michigan, Feldman said, and they handle estates where no heirs can be located or in cases where the heirs live outside the United States.

Eliminate Jerk In Space Camera

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When the Apollo 10 astronauts turn on their newest television camera and transmit to earth next week, you probably will notice one improvement more significant than the fact that the picture is in color for the first time from space.

More notable will be their natural human movements. With the new camera, developed by Westinghouse for military projects and adapted to Apollo 10 in less than three months, those jerky motions from previous flights are replaced by normal action.

The new camera transmits at the 525 scan lines that appear on home television screens, while the flickering action on the camera used previously resulted from its transmission at only 200 scan lines.

As for color, inside pictures may be a disappointment. Virtually everything in the spacecraft is a bland gray.

Stanley Lebar, Westinghouse program manager for Apollo cameras, said in checking for colored objects to photograph in the spacecraft, a crew came up with a short list: the Apollo 1 cloth patches and American flags on the astronauts' uniforms, the red cross on the first aid kit and the flesh tones of the astronauts' faces.

"But the view everyone is looking forward to is the earth in color," Lebar said.

There will be a delay of 10 seconds from the time the picture is received in the space center at Houston until it is sent out. In this time, the red, green and blue sequence signals from the color wheel camera will be synchronized through two video tape recorders.

It wouldn't be necessary to do this for home color TV sets, said the camera's developer, Larkin Niemyer, but it is done so that TV networks and stations can videotape it and play it back later.

The color camera the astronauts will use in the command module weighs 13 pounds. They also will have a three-pound monitor which they can attach to the camera or to the metal spacecraft or hold in one hand.

Another new camera feature is a zoom lens that can, with a twist of the astronaut's wrist, increase the size of an object nine times.

Ten color transmissions from space are scheduled.

Airliner Missing Three Months

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — A DC3 airliner is still missing in the Sierra three months after its last flight with 35 persons aboard. The plane disappeared in a heavy snowstorm Feb. 18 on a return flight to Los Angeles from the gambling casino here. A new search was conducted Saturday and Sunday.

Black Priest Has Lonely Life

DETROIT (AP) — It's a lonely life being the only black Roman Catholic priest in one of the country's largest archdioceses.

"I came out of the seminary in 1964 thinking I was white," said the Rev. Donald M. Clark, 33, the pastor of St. Agnes Church in Detroit's inner city. "I think I've gotten over it," he said. "At least I hope so."

Seminary theology is religion for the white, middle-class majority. One can't escape his history. Blacks can't be white. Whites can't be black.

Father Clark worries that the church does not really address itself to the needs of parishioners, particularly to Detroit's estimated 30,000 black Catholics. In response to their needs, Father Clark recently joined with

60 other black priests to organize the National Black Clergy Caucus of which he is president. "There will never be enough black priests and nuns to serve black children in our schools," he said. "But we could set up training centers for white priests and sisters who want to go into the black community. We want the church to capitalize on our experience."

Father Clark was raised in Detroit as a Baptist. He met a seminarian who was his counselor at a YMCA summer camp and within a year decided to convert to Catholicism. He said his parents did not understand his decision to become a priest but did not discourage it either. Father Clark is disturbed by and openly critical of many of the ritualistic traditions of the Roman Catholic church. He consistently refers to his archbishop, John Francis Cardinal Dearden as "John Francis."

"We sent John Francis to Rome to make him a Cardinal," Father Clark said. "How archaic can you get. That's not our culture. We've lived with that for 400 years and it's irrelevant."

He added, "We can't separate the salvation of souls and social concern."

He is also critical of the church hierarchy. "As a priest, one is only dominated as much as he lets himself be," Father Clark said. "John Francis could help us with the Black Caucus, the council, the whole idea."

"I suppose I should speak to him. I haven't; I probably won't. He knows where I am and what we're doing. He hasn't asked what he can do to help."

Sure you can draw your own will.

You can also take out your appendix, fill your teeth and practice brain surgery on the kids.

All are equally hazardous, in different ways.

And equally senseless.

As Bankers, we come in contact with a lot of attorneys, and to say that we admire the legal profession is putting it mildly.

Lord knows where we'd be without lawyers.

So when the author of a popular book about probate courts suggests that the reader draw his own will, using stock forms from the book, we feel impelled to speak out.

This makes about as much sense as a do-it-yourself gall bladder removal kit.

No two family situations are exactly alike.

And no stock form for homemade wills is going to help anybody.

Except maybe the author of the book.

If you need a will, see an attorney.

(And if you need a banker, see us.)
